3 Million Miles Are Logged

Soviet Space Twins Back on Earth Safely

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's space twins came down today with bulleseye landings in Kazakhstan after zipping around the world in weightless orbit for a total of almost three million miles. The leader was aloft for nearly four full days and his flanker for nearly three.

Jubilant Russians hailed their record-breaking feats as a great stride toward manned shots at the moon and other planets and toward rocket transport within the 20th century for travelers on the shrinking earth.

"Cosmos! Cosmos! Cosmos!" shouted young Russians in Moscow's Red Square. Waves of enthusiasm swept the nation.

Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, who were shot aloft in separate satellites a day apart last weekend, landed six minutes apart in the virgin lands area south of Karaganda, Kazakhstan, 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

"Both cosmonauts feel well," a government bulletin announced. Radio Moscow said a special team of experts, doctors, friends and journalists welcomed them. Baths and shaves appeared to be their first needs.

"The scientific and technical tasks of the unprecedented flight were solved completely," a broadcast announcement said. It added that the space men demonstrated both extreme courage and "the high moral qualities of Soviet man."

Both brilliantly fulfilled their task, said the Soviet news agency

Novosti, and "for the next few days will remain under observation of doctors to study the influences of prolonged space flight on the human organism."

Tass said Nikolayev landed his Vostok III at 9:55 a.m. Moscow time and Popovich landed in Vostok IV at 10:01 a.m., "in direct proximity with the planned points of landing."

The area is that from which past space shots have been launched.

It is an area that was notorious in the 1930s as the land to which Communist officials banished hundreds of thousands of peasants who refused to surrender their farms to the collectives.

Secrecy still veiled the exact mode of landing. The astronauts could have come down within the capsules or by separate parachutes.

The flights lasted just 95 minutes short of four days for Nikolayev, who blasted off at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, and just 61 minutes short of three days for Popovich, who went up at 11:02 a.m. Sunday.

The Communist party Central Committee, the Supreme Soviet Presidium and the Soviet government in a joint message said Nikolayev had circled the earth more than 64 times, covering a distance of more than 1.6 million miles. The message said Popovich made more than 48 orbits for a distance of nearly 1.24 million miles.

They far outdistanced the time and distance of any preceding space flight.

Soviet astronaut Maj. Gherman Titov set the previous record with his 25-hour, 17-orbit flight on Aug. 6, 1961. America's longest traveling spacemen, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, each made three orbits this year. The world's first spaceman, Soviet astronaut Yuri Gagarin, made one orbit lasting 108 minutes on April 12, 1961.

A hero's welcome and world acclaim awaited Nikolayev, 32, and Popovich, 31, whom Soviet newspapers have dubbed "the heavenly twins." Red Square was being readied for the two new heroes, possibly on Sunday, which is Soviet air force day.

U2 Pilot Files Suit Asking For Divorce

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Six months after a dramatic release from a Soviet prison, former U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers sued his wife, Barbara, for divorce on grounds of cruelty and intoxication.

The petition was filed Tuesday in Superior Court at this middle Georgia city, hometown of the 28-year-old brunette Powers married in 1955. The couple has no children.

Powers said in the petition he had been separated from his dark-eyed wife since May 27. He charged she was "guilty of habitual intoxication" and that she cursed and abused him without cause.

The petition also alleged her "acts of cruelty were wilfully inflicted" and caused Powers to become highly nervous and endurable. Mrs. Powers had no comment when she was served with a writ, Sheriff Buford T. Lingold said.

Her mother, Monteen Allen, said she was surprised to learn a divorce petition had been filed. "I love Barbara and I love Gary," she said. "I'm so sorry about this. Barbara hasn't been herself since Gary was shot down."

Powers was downed May 1, 1960 while flying a reconnaissance mission over the Soviet Union, an episode that touched off an international controversy.

Mobile Still Stolen From Cops' Backyard

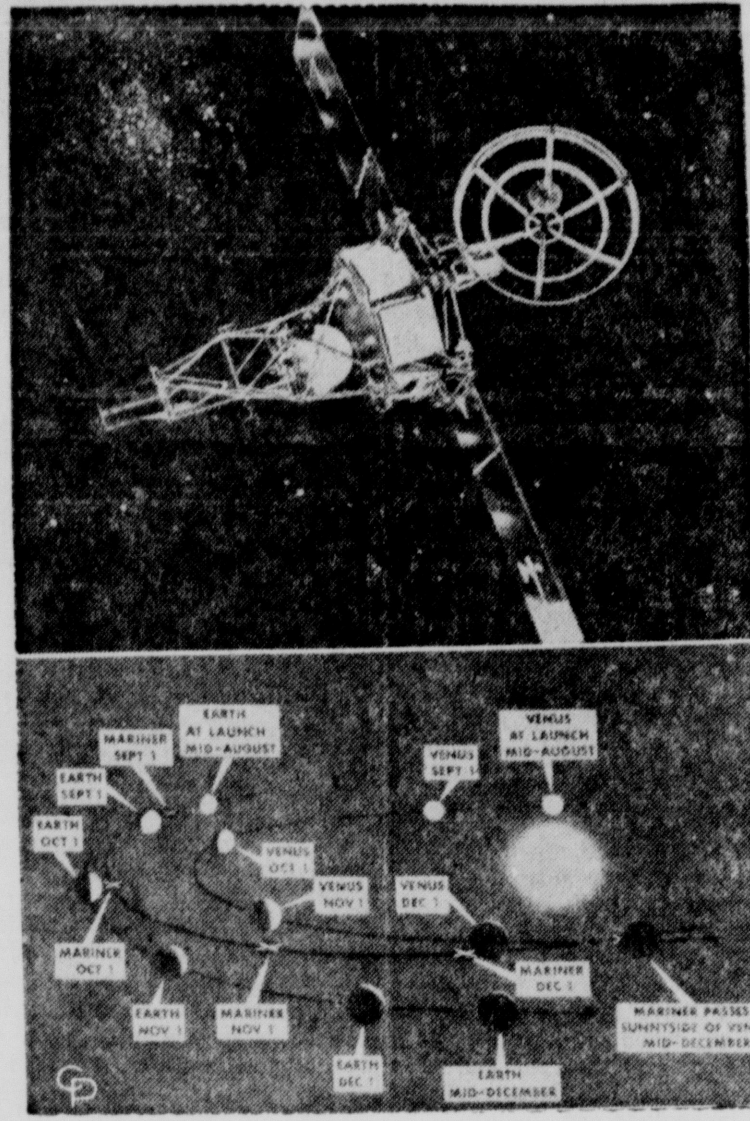

CAIRO, Ga. (AP)—Moonshiners lure police away from the city jail before dawn and towed off a mobile moonshine still.

Police Chief A. L. Hester found the still aboard a pickup truck in a heavily wooded area.

He had it driven to the rear of the city jail and disabled by removal of the distributor motor.

Early Tuesday police received a report of a disturbance.

The call proved to be a hoax. When police returned to the jail, the truck had been towed away.

SECOND ATTEMPT TO PROBE VENUS NEAR — Mariner II (top, artist's conception), second of a series of U. S. spacecraft designed for interplanetary exploration, will be launched within a few days from Cape Canaveral, Fla., by NASA. It is hoped the Mariner will pass within 10,000 miles of Venus (lower, trajectory). Launched July 22, Mariner I was destroyed because of a deviation from the flight path.

U.S. Preparing Venus Probe

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States is preparing for its second attempt within a month to launch an interplanetary spaceship to probe mysteries of cloud-shrouded Venus.

If the launching, scheduled next Monday at the earliest, is successful, the Mariner II spacecraft will pass within 10,000 miles of Venus early in December and relay vital data about the planet to earth stations 36 million miles away.

An identical Mariner I launching failed July 22 when a faulty guidance equation caused the Atlas-Agena B booster rocket to veer off course. The rocket was destroyed by the range safety officer after 290 seconds of flight.

If Mariner II also fails, American scientists must wait 19 months before Venus again is in favorable position for a launching.

Rhodes said Tuesday that Ohio has picked up only 30,000 new jobs in the past three years while the population went up 472,000.

In a campaign speech Tuesday to residents of three Southwest Ohio counties, the Republican candidate for governor said:

"The grim fact is that Ohio jobs have gone to other states—states which have neither the natural economic advantages nor the brains which Ohio has."

He said a recent study at Ohio State University showed Ohio had outstretched, pointing directly at the other.

Pastore is the floor manager for the bill, which would set up a private, government-regulated corporation to own and operate the U.S. portion of a global communications network using satellites as relay stations.

Morse is one of the leaders of the government-ownership advocates, who suffered a series of defeats Tuesday starting with a 63-27 vote to choke off their filibuster by invoking the Senate's debate-limitation rule.

It was the first time in 35 years that the Senate has invoked this rule which limits each senator to a total of one hour's speaking time.

Morse also is one of the authors of an amendment to ban racial discrimination in employment by the proposed satellite corporation and its contractors.

Soon after today's Senate session started, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said he regretted that Pastore had served notice he would move to table and thus kill the civil rights amendment.

Pastore popped up to say that Morse, when he was managing a federal aid to education bill last year, had followed precisely the same procedure when a civil rights amendment was offered.

After the two senators subsided, Douglas went on to defend his vote against cloture.

Park Visitors Said 'Gouged'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., said today concessionaires in national parks are given virtually self-perpetuating, monopolistic rights to gouge the millions of visitors.

He said the concessionaires are not charged even a minimum franchise fee and their profits range as high as 82.1 per cent.

Brooks issued the statement as his Government Activities subcommittee resumed hearings on ways of preventing waste of taxpayers' money.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall was called to testify.

Brooks contends the hearings so far on the Commerce Department and the Small Business Administration have shown how to save nearly $100 million yearly in federal expenditures.

He said the subcommittee will explore at least 14 areas of Interior Department activity, including the matter of national park concessionaires.

Democrat Senators Wrangle Over Communications Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic senators on opposite sides of the private vs. public ownership battle over a space communications system tangled in a heated clash today.

Sens. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., shouted angrily at each other in a dispute touched off by a proposed civil rights amendment to the administration's satellite communications bill.

"I'll take you on on civil rights any day," Morse declared, advancing toward Pastore.

"Any time, any where, any place," Pastore shouted right back.

Male Heart Disease Death Rate Too High

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—American males aged 45-54 are dying of heart disease at an alarming rate. Scientists will study the diets of 1,500 men over a period of months to learn whether blood cholesterol level is one of the causes and to see whether people will pass up some of their favorite foods.

The Public Health Service announced Tuesday initial grants totalling $152,142 for a research program. The study will be conducted in Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis and Oakland, Calif., on 1,500 married males, aged 45-54.

Correlating the program will be the heart research center of Cleveland Clinic, headed by Dr. Irvine H. Page, chairman of the proposed study. Researchers under his direction have experimented for more than two years with low-fat diets to make them palatable and to trace their effects on paragon of Western Reserve University medical students.

At a news conference, Dr. Page explained the project as a pilot study to determine whether it is feasible to undertake on a vastly larger scale needed to produce meaningful statistics on heart disease deaths.

$1½ Million Loot Taken in Holdup

DiSalle, Rhodes Heard

Candidates Paint Opposing Pictures

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—"Everyone agrees," Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here in a re-election campaign talk Tuesday night, "that Ohio's climate for industry and business today is exceptionally favorable."

The Democratic governor said a number of economic indicators "show a continuing growth in Ohio and offer reasons for confidence in the future."

Painting a picture in sharp contrast to the one drawn by his gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, DiSalle said that Bureau of Census studies showed Ohio outstripping neighboring industrial states in many fields.

Between 1950 and 1960, DiSalle said, "Ohio's over-all manufacturing employment increased slightly more than 13 per cent."

"This is an encouraging record," DiSalle said, "but we have to do better. We should be adding at least 100,000 new employees every year to maintain a healthy growth."

Ohio did gain 100,000 new workers in 1959, he said, adding: "How we have done since can only be estimated because these studies take lots of time and mountains of work."

Rhodes said Tuesday that Ohio has picked up only 30,000 new jobs in the past three years while the population went up 472,000.

In a campaign speech Tuesday to residents of three Southwest Ohio counties, the Republican candidate for governor said:

U.S. Releases $1.9 Billion In Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government uncoiled $1.9 billion in frozen highway funds today that will seep into the economy over the next few months.

Ohio was not included in the funds released today since the previous first quarter release covered the balance of apportioned funds going to the state.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced the allocation to enable a speedup in federal-state road building programs.

The money had been frozen in the Highway Trust Fund since 1959 to ensure the fund's solvency. The fund is financed from gasoline tax receipts and other levies against highway users.

Hodges said the Commerce Department, in consultation with the Treasury and Bureau of the Budget, reviewed the trust fund and decided the $1.9 billion could be released.

"Enough money will be held in the trust fund to preserve its integrity and to meet all obligations," said the announcement.

"This added $1.9 billion will allow states that have taken the initiative and have their plans ready to move ahead more rapidly with the modernization of their road systems," said Hodges. "It does not give these states extra money for their total program but helps them speed up construction."

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of interstate express roads, with the states paying the balance. Federal funds meet half the cost of most other state road programs.

Execution of Columbus Slayer Is Postponed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court has granted an indefinite postponement of the execution of a Columbus slayer scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair Friday.

The stay went to Donald Reinbolt, 28, convicted of the first-degree murder of Edward L. Weaver, Columbus grocer, on Aug. 28, 1961.

6.2 per cent of the national job force in 1947, but slipped to 5.7 per cent in 1961.

In the same period, California gained 61 per cent in the number of jobs while Ohio went ahead only 14.2 per cent.

Meanwhile, the governor asked his 31st question of his opponent: "Do you favor increased unemployment benefits?" the Democrat governor asked.

He noted that Republican legislative leaders voted against a 1959 enactment signed by the governor and inquired whether Rhodes agreed with their position.

"If you disagree with them, do you now repudiate the position they took at that time?" DiSalle inquired.

Rhodes, who has deferred answers, remained silent.

DiSalle reiterated that before long he would give his own answers to the questions he has been posing since the May primary election. He hinted that he might frame probable answers that Rhodes might give, if he remains silent much longer.

Captive Americans To Be Freed Friday

VIETNAME, Laos (AP)—Prince Souphanouvong said today Americans held captive by his Pathet Lao forces for more than a year will be freed Friday and flown immediately to Vientiane.

The pro-Communist deputy premier had announced before that the prisoners were on their way to a liberation point but this was the first time he fixed a definite date for their release.

"I can not tell you their number," but a U.S. Embassy spokesman said five Americans are known to be prisoners.

Gang Captures U.S. Mail Truck

8 Men Use 2 Cars In Sharp Operation

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reported the loss in the hijacking of a U.S. mail truck in Randolph Tuesday night totaled approximately $1.5 million. This exceeds the loss in the nation's previous biggest cash haul, the Brink's robbery, in which $1,219,000 was stolen in 1958.

William F. White, chief postal inspector in Boston, concurred in the estimate.

An eight-man gang armed with sub machine guns held up two guards after one bandit dressed as a police officer, signaled them to halt.

Hours later police at the scene were without clues to the robbers.

The reserve bank made it clear the money stolen was the responsibility of the reserve bank and that Cape Cod member banks shipping the funds would stand no losses.

At least four automobiles were used in the robbery. After tying up the truck's two guards the bandits made three stops as they unloaded the money which was contained in 15 sealed bags. Two stolen cars were abandoned near the scene. They were checked by state police fingerprint experts.

The robbery was a professional job executed with cool efficiency. One holdup man wore a police uniform. All wore white gloves. The truck was hijacked on the northbound lane of Route 3 in Plymouth and later abandoned here, 25 miles north. The robbers blocked off a lane several miles back with detour signs at the nearest exit. This forestalled some motorists from driving onto the holdup scene.

FBI agents said the method used was known to be favored by two men high on the FBI "most-wanted" list. They said the technique was similar to that used in previous holdups by Bobby Wilcoxon.

4 Steel Firms Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., says he will ask that four steel companies be cited for contempt of Congress because they "indicated they will not comply" with subpoenas demanding details of costs and pricing.

The four companies are Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., National Steel Corp., and Armco Steel Corp.

They protested that Kefauver, as chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, was asking for secret information that would damage them if it got into the hands of American and foreign competitors.

Kefauver denied the information would slip out and said that eight other steel companies, including U. S. Steel, have agreed.

Kansas City Armco Plant Shut Down

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A walk-out of 90 men in the ball department of the Sheffield Division of the Armco Steel Co., resulted in a shutdown of the entire plant today idling 2,339 men.

Paul Crane, president of Local No. 13 United Steel Workers (AFL-CIO) said the walkout followed disciplinary action by the company against two men who objected to an increased work load.

He said the company had refused to discuss the dispute with union leaders.

Butler County Tract Bought by Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati city officials have bought a 172-acre tract in Butler County near Ross to use for waterworks expansion.

The purchase was reported Tuesday on land about two miles from the nearest well used by the city of Hamilton. Hamilton officials have protested Cincinnati plans, contending the project could endanger the Butler County city's water supply.

JFK Unit Demands Missile Strike End

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's Missile Sites Labor Commission demanded today an immediate end to a labor stoppage that has halted construction work at the government's spacecraft center at Huntsville, Ala.

The commission said that in view of the Soviet Union's latest feat in putting twin space vehicles into orbit it is more necessary than ever to maintain labor peace on the nation's missile and space sites and research center.

Julius Kuczma, the commission's executive secretary, urgently requested President Gordon Freeman of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and President Neal Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department to order local union officials at Huntsville to halt picketing activities.

The picketing against a subcontractor has idled virtually all of the 1,500 building trades employees at Redstone Arsenal which, among other projects, is working on facilities for the first U.S. moon shot.

Kuczma told the union officials that the work stoppage was seriously interfering with the nation's space program and violating the labor management no-strike policy at the nation's space and missile bases.

Picket lines went up at Huntsville Tuesday.

A Marshall Space Flight Center spokesman said if the strike lasts long enough it could prove detrimental to the Saturn program. and, the spokesman added, Saturn is essential to this country's plans for moon exploration.

The picket lines were put up by members of Local 558 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. They reportedly are protesting the employment of some nonunion workers by Baraco Electrical Construction Co., a subcontractor of Greenhut Construction Co. of Pensacola, Fla.

Officials of both the union and Baraco were unavailable for comment.

A Marshall center spokesman numbering about 1,500, honored the picket lines the first day. About two-thirds of these workers are concerned with Marshall projects valued at about $18 million.

Others are involved with Army research and development facilities at the Army ordnance missile command. At least 40 projects are involved at the two agencies, a spokesman said.

Airlines To Study SW Ohio Airport

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight major airlines have agreed to make their own surveys of the proposed Southwest Ohio jetport to see if they would want to use the facility.

J. Woodrow Thomas, vice president of Trans-World Airlines, said Tuesday the airlines have agreed to report by Sept. 4.

Hamilton County Commissioner Vincent Beckman said his group wants to wait until the airlines report before deciding whether to put up $57,500 toward a feasibility study, expected to cost $125,000.

R. W. Patterson, former Dayton mayor, originated the idea of a $50 million jet facility halfway between Cincinnati and Dayton, with 11 Southwest Ohio counties taking part in its formation.

Officials of Greater Cincinnati Airport contended they already had a jet airport, and that a regional facility between Dayton and Columbus would be better placed.

Candidates Paint Opposing Pictures

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — "Everyone agrees," Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here in a re-election campaign talk Tuesday night, "that Ohio's climate for industry and business today is exceptionally favorable."

The Democratic governor said a number of economic indicators "show a continuing growth in Ohio and offer reasons for confidence in the future."

Painting a picture in sharp contrast to the one drawn by his gubernatorial opponent, State Auditor James A. Rhodes, DiSalle said that Bureau of Census studies showed Ohio outstripping neighboring industrial states in many fields.

Between 1950 and 1960, DiSalle said, "Ohio's over-all manufacturing employment increased slightly more than 15 per cent."

"This is an encouraging record," DiSalle said, "but we have to do better. We should be adding at least 100,000 new employees every year to maintain a healthy growth."

Ohio did gain 100,000 new workers in 1959, he said, adding: "How we have done since can only be estimated because these studies take lots of time and mountains of work."

Rhodes said Tuesday that Ohio has picked up only 30,000 new jobs in the past three years while the population went up 472,000.

In a campaign speech Tuesday to residents of three Southwest Ohio counties, the Republican candidate for governor said:

"The grim fact is that Ohio jobs have gone to other states—states which have neither the natural economic advantages nor the brains which Ohio has."

He said a recent study at Ohio State University showed Ohio had

6.2 per cent of the national job force in 1947, but slipped to 5.7 per cent in 1961.

In the same period, California gained 61 per cent in the number of jobs while Ohio went ahead only 14.2 per cent.

Meanwhile, the governor asked his 31st question of his opponent: "Do you favor increased unemployment benefits?" The Democrat governor asked.

He noted that Republican legislative leaders voted against a 1959 enactment signed by the governor and inquired whether Rhodes agreed with their position.

"If you disagree with them, do you now repudiate the position they took at that time?" DiSalle inquired.

Rhodes, who has deferred answers, remained silent.

DiSalle reiterated that before long he would give his own answers to the questions he has been posing since the May primary election. He hinted that he might frame probable answers that Rhodes might give, if he remains silent much longer.

U.S. Releases $1.9 Billion In Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government uncorked $1.9 billion in frozen highway funds today that will seep into the economy over the next few months.

Ohio was not included in the funds released today since the previous first quarter release covered the balance of apportioned funds going to the state.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced the allocation to enable a speedup in federal-state road building programs.

The money had been frozen in the Highway Trust Fund since 1959 to ensure the fund's solvency. The fund is financed from gasoline tax receipts and other levies against highway users.

Hodges said the Commerce Department, in consultation with the Treasury and Bureau of the Budget, reviewed the trust fund and decided the $1.9 billion could be released.

"Enough money will be held in the trust fund to preserve its integrity and to meet all obligations," said the announcement.

"This added $1.9 billion will allow states that have taken the initiative and have their plans ready to move ahead more rapidly with the modernization of their road systems," said Hodges. "It does not give these states extra money for their total program but helps them speed up construction."

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of interstate express roads, with the states paying the balance. Federal funds meet half the cost of most other state road programs.

Execution of Columbus Slayer Is Postponed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court has granted an indefinite postponement of the execution of a Columbus slayer scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair Friday.

The stay went to Donald Reinbolt, 28, convicted of the first-degree murder of Edward L. Weaver, Columbus grocer, on Aug. 28, 1961.

Gang Captures U.S. Mail Truck

8 Men Use 2 Cars In Sharp Operation

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reported the loss in the hijacking of a U.S. mail truck in Randolph Tuesday night totaled approximately $1.5 million. This exceeds the loss in the nation's previous biggest cash haul, the Brink's robbery, in which $1,219,000 was stolen in 1950.

William F. White, chief postal inspector in Boston, concurred in the estimate.

An eight-man gang armed with sub machine guns held up two guards after one bandit dressed as a police officer, signaled them to halt.

Hours later police at the scene were without clues to the robbers.

The reserve bank made it clear the money stolen was the responsibility of the reserve bank and that Cape Cod member banks shipping the funds would stand no losses.

At least four automobiles were used in the robbery. After tying up the truck's two guards the bandits made three stops as they unloaded the money which was contained in 15 sealed bags. Two stolen cars were abandoned near the scene. They were checked by state police fingerprint experts.

The robbery was a professional job executed with cool efficiency. One holdup man wore a police uniform. All wore white gloves. The truck was hijacked on the northbound lane of Route 3 in Plymouth and later abandoned here, 25 miles north. The robbers blocked off a lane several miles back with detour signs at the nearest exit. This forestalled some motorists from driving onto the holdup scene.

FBI agents said the method used was known to be favored by two men high on the FBI "most-wanted" list. They said the technique was similar to that used in previous holdups by Bobby Wilcoxon.

4 Steel Firms Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., says he will ask that four steel companies be cited for contempt of Congress because they "indicated they will not comply" with subpoenas demanding details of costs and pricing.

The four companies are Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., National Steel Corp., and Armco Steel Corp.

They protested that Kefauver, as chairman of the Senate Antitrust and monopoly Subcommittee, was asking for secret information that would damage them if it got into the hands of American and foreign competitors.

Kefauver denied the information would slip out and said that eight other steel companies including U. S. Steel, have agreed.

Kansas City Armco Plant Shut Down

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A walk-out of 90 men in the ball department of the Sheffield Division of the Armco Steel Co., resulted in a shutdown of the entire plant today idling 2,339 men.

Paul Crane, president of Local No. 13 United Steel Workers (AFL-CIO) said the walkout followed disciplinary action by the company against two men who objected to an increased work load.

He said the company had refused to discuss the dispute with union leaders.

Butler County Tract Bought by Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati officials have bought a 172 acre tract in Butler County near Ross to use for waterworks expansion.

The purchase was reported Tuesday on land about two miles from the nearest well used by the city of Hamilton. Hamilton officials have protested Cincinnati plans, contending the project could endanger the Butler County city's water supply.

JFK Unit Demands Missile Strike End

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's Missile Sites Labor Commission demanded today an immediate end to a labor stoppage that has halted construction work at the government's spacecraft center at Huntsville, Ala.

The commission said that in view of the Soviet Union's latest feat in putting twin space vehicles into orbit it is more necessary than ever to maintain labor peace on the nation's missile and space sites and research center.

Julius Kuczma, the commission's executive secretary, urgently requested President Gordon Freeman of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and President Neal Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department to order local union officials at Huntsville to halt picketing activities.

The picketing against a subcontractor has idled virtually all of the 1,500 building trades employees at Redstone Arsenal which, among other projects, is working on facilities for the first U.S. moon shot.

Kuczma told the union officials that the work stoppage was seriously interfering with the nation's space program and violating the labor management no-strike policy at the nation's space and missile bases.

Picket lines went up at Huntsville Tuesday.

A Marshall Space Flight Center spokesman said if the strike lasts long enough it could prove detrimental to the Saturn program, and, the spokesman added, Saturn is essential to this country's plans for moon exploration.

The picket lines were put up by members of Local 558 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. They reportedly are protesting the employment of some nonunion workers by Barco Electrical Construction Co., a subcontractor of Greenhut Construction Co. of Pensacola, Fla.

Officials of both the union and Barco were unavailable for comment.

A Marshall center spokesman numbering about 1,500, honored the picket lines the first day. About two-thirds of these workers are concerned with Marshall projects valued at about $18 million.

Others are involved with Army research and development facilities at the Army ordnance missile command. At least 40 projects are involved at the two agencies, a spokesman said.

Airlines To Study SW Ohio Airport

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eight major airlines have agreed to make their own surveys of the proposed Southwest Ohio jetport to see if they would want to use the facility.

J. Woodrow Thomas, vice president of Trans-World Airlines, said Tuesday the airlines have agreed to report by Sept. 4.

Hamilton County Commissioner Vincent Beckman said his group wants to wait out the airlines reports before deciding whether to put up $57,500 toward a feasibility study, expected to cost $125,000.

R. W. Patterson, former Dayton mayor, originated the idea of a $50 million jet facility halfway between Cincinnati and Dayton, with 11 Southwest Ohio counties taking part in its formation.

Officials of Greater Cincinnati Airport contended they already had a jet airport, and that a regional facility between Dayton and Columbus would be better placed.

Hanna Chief Denies Charge

No Papers Destroyed; Auditor Said Wrong

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The president of Hanna Mining Co. said today an auditor for the Senate subcommittee probing government stockpiling gave a deliberate misstatement of the facts in testimony before the subcommittee.

W. A. Marting, Hanna president, attacked testimony given Tuesday by Walter H. Henson which Marting said insinuates without directly charging misconduct in the destruction of important evidence.

Contrary to the testimony, Marting said, "no records of any kind of the Nickel Smelting Co. were ever destroyed."

"The only papers of any kind relating to these transactions that were ever destroyed were cancelled checks more than six years old, as is customary in business generally," he said.

George M. Humparey, Honorary board chairman of the Hanna Co. and former secretary of the Treasury under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has asked to testify in Washington. Marting said Henson's charges will be cleared up in testimony later.

"The company has retained and now has on file in its records vouchers for, and copies of, every single check that was destroyed. These were voluntarily turned over to Henson for his inspection so that he knows his statement is misleading."

Henson, a General Accounting Office supervisor, spent a long day before the subcommittee telling of the intricate affairs of the Hanna firm and its subsidiaries.

Under questioning from Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., Henson said the Hanna mining interest's gross profits from the nickel stockpile contracts may exceed $39 million on an investment of about $4.5 million.

He testified that checks and invoices for the period of 1952-1954 were missing from Hanna Co. files in Cleveland. He said he found notations that the records were destroyed in February and March—shortly after President Kennedy urged a congressional investigation of the stockpile situation.

Hanna Chief Denies Charge

No Papers Destroyed; Auditor Said Wrong

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The president of Hanna Mining Co. said today an auditor for the Senate subcommittee probing government stockpiling gave a deliberate misstatement of the facts in testimony before the subcommittee.

W. A. Marting, Hanna president, attacked testimony given Tuesday by Walter H. Henson which Marting said insinuates without direct charging misconduct in the destruction of important evidence.

Contrary to the testimony, Marting said, "no records of any kind of the Nickel Smelting Co. were ever destroyed."

"The only papers of any kind relating to these transactions that were ever destroyed were cancelled checks more than six years old, as is customary in business generally," he said.

George M. Humphrey, Honorary board chairman of the Hanna Co. and former secretary of the Treasury under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has asked to testify in Washington. Marting said Henson's charges will be cleared up in testimony.

"The company has retained and now has on file in its records vouchers for, and copies of, every single check that was destroyed. These were voluntarily turned over to Henson for his inspection so that he knows his statement is misleading."

Henson, a General Accounting Office supervisor, spent a long day before the subcommittee telling of the intricate affairs of the Hanna firm and its subsidiaries. Under questioning from Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., Henson said the Hanna mining interest's gross profits may exceed $39 million on an investment of about $4.5 million.

He testified that checks and invoices for the period of 1932-1954 were missing from Hanna Co. files in Cleveland. He said he found notations that the records were destroyed in February and March—shortly after President Kennedy urged a congressional investigation of the stockpile situation.

Muskingum Youths Win Safety Prize

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)—Five rural Muskingum County youths won free trips Tuesday to the National Safety Congress in Chicago with their skit on safety at the Ohio Farm Bureau's one-week training school here.

Trip winners were Kay Dei-trick of Route 7, Zanesville, and Heather, Howard, James and Joan Swingle of Route 1, Philo.

The young farmers, all brothers, sisters and cousins, enacted scenes showing how each had suffered an accident because of failure to take time to prevent it.

The skit will be repeated at the Chicago Congress, Oct. 28-Nov. 1, and again at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting in Columbus Nov. 12-14.

Some 60 young Ohio farmers are attending the training school.

Mercury Hits 117 In California

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool Canadian air spread across the Great Lakes region and into sections of the Ohio Valley and middle Mississippi Valley today but there appeared no general break in the warm and humid weather in much of the Southland.

Temperatures in the cool belt were mostly in the 50s with 40s reported in some northern Midwest regions. The mercury dropped to 47 in Milwaukee Tuesday night, a record low for Aug. 15.

The hot spots included southern and central Texas, southern New Mexico, interior sections of Central California and the Southwest ranged from the 80s to above 100 degrees after a high of 117 Tuesday in Needles and Blythe, Calif.

Japanese Sailor Can Stay in U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Now that Kenichi Horie is here he can stay a while as far as the U.S. government is concerned.

Kenichi, 23, got here by sailing alone in a 19-foot sailboat all the way from Osaka, Japan—a trip of three months.

His feat surprised authorities here and in Japan. The fact that he arrived Sunday without passport has been somewhat brushed aside in the public reception being given the 5-foot, 1-inch youth with quick, broad smile.

The U.S. Immigration Service thought it all over and Monday granted Kenichi a 30-day stay. But the district director, Ralph H. Holton, added, "He can stay here six months as far as we're concerned."

Gang Captures

of Duke, Okla., and Albert Nussbaum of Buffalo, N.Y. They robbed two New York banks.

Last May, an Abington policeman was shot by a motorist who resembled Nussbaum. The man was never found.

There were reports that a red and white car with a girl at the wheel was seen stopped beside the mail truck on Route 128.

Patrick Schena, one of the two guards on the truck, gave this account:

"They first stopped us on Route 3 near the bypass. A car went by at 80 miles an hour. We were doing about 45. We saw the car stop in front of us and a man in a police uniform got out and waved his arms over his head to stop us. I stopped the truck.

"The next thing I knew there was a man coming on either side of the truck, pointing what looked like machine guns at us.

"They ordered us to throw down our guns and we did. They told us to open the cage which led to the back. We opened it. They ordered us to get in the back of the truck.

"The man dressed as a policeman and another man joined the two with the guns and they tied us up and made us lie down on the floor.

"They took our keys and opened the back door and threw some of the money bags to another person, who put them into a car.

"The car drove off and a man dressed as a policeman started driving the mail truck off with us in it. I don't know how far we went, but when we stopped again one of the men got out and took some more money bags and put them in another car.

"Then they drove some more and made a third stop and repeated the same procedure with another man leaving the truck.

"Wethen drove a long time before they stopped at the Route 128 and 28 Intersection. Then they all got out of the truck and took the remaining money bags into a fourth car and drove off.

"I don't know how much money they got but we knew we had over a million dollars. We waited until we heard the car drive away. Then we untied each other."

The other guard was William F. Barrett.

Marshall Returning Without Soblen

LONDON (AP)—Two U.S. marshals held their revolvers to an airline pilot today and left for New York without Robert A. Soblen, the fugitive spy they had been assigned to accompany back to the United States.

An appeal to Britain's High Court against a government deportation order and other legal moves may take a month or two to settle. Soblen, now in the hospital wing of Brixton Prison, will remain in Britain.

Marshals Joseph McShane and Joseph Waiselowski traveled on a regular commercial flight. They gave the crew their sidearms for safekeeping.

Goofing Off

His choice of words may not have been that customarily made by a college president, but when Dr. Houston Cole told a conference of Alabama high school principals this is the age of the goof off, he hit the nail squarely on the head.

It takes some getting used to, but an honest appraisal of modern society reveals the primary idea seems to be how much enjoyment can be squeezed out of the leisure hours, and not how much work can be produced during the working hours.

This is called goofing off, and it extends to the working hours as well as that growing chunk of day when nobody is expected to do anything worthwhile anyway. Dr. Cole, who is president of Jacksonville,

Ala., State College, mentioned the results of a survey which, he said, indicated that even within the eight-hour workday are contained about four hours of goofing off.

You know — time spent beating a path to the water cooler, in those prolonged coffee breaks and of course those very important discussions of office politics.

It seems the average worker isn't waiting for unions to hand him a shorter work week. He has managed to knock it down to 20 hours all by himself. One wonders at times, during prolonged backyard ham-mock sessions, who is responsible for the continuing rise in national productivity and the highest standard of living in the world.

Whoever he is, he deserves fitting recognition. Like a nice long vacation.

Ghana

The recent statement by President Nkrumah to the convention of the People's Party of his country that Ghana has as its objective a one-party state with the party being the administration as well as the governing unit is a reminder of the trend in African countries.

Most of the former colonies of Britain and France had experience with the liberal traditions of government as expressed by the two mother countries — the right of minorities to fight constitutionally for their viewpoints and be a focus of criticism of the current regimes.

But these traditions have fallen by the wayside in nearly all the French-speaking lands and in most of those formerly ruled by Britain. Nkrumah is not breaking new ground. He is merely making his country conform to the African pattern. And neither is it entirely African.

A few weeks ago Pakistan President Mohammad Ayub Khan said that the United Nations should help new countries devise forms of democratic governments suitable to their own character instead of copying standard Western systems.

Khan calls his one-party state in Pakistan "basic democracy." It consists of giving electoral responsibility only to "persons of status in their communities, thus eliminating elections by masses of voters in a population 85 per cent illiterate.

How To Tell Middle-Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Middle age is like heaven in one respect—many people respect it, but few are in any hurry to get there.

It is a condition that is measured more by your actions and how you feel than the mere number of your years. A man of 35 may be middle-aged while one of 50 is still a mere overripe adolescent.

There is no doubt, however, when a woman reaches middle age. It is the day when she publicly admits for the first time that she is 60 at last. This is usually the day before her 62nd birthday, when she applies to Uncle Sam for Social Security.

Men are the borderline cases. But a man is probably middle-aged if—

His wife, instead of asking how he slept the night before, inquires, "How did you rest?"

He dreams more about his job than he does about romance.

He spends more time discussing the unpredictability of the weather than the unpredictability of women.

When he opens his morning paper, he turns first to the obituary columns, second to the business news section, and third to the sports pages.

His son quits borrowing his neckties because they look old-fashioned.

He votes against a community bond issue to build a new grammar school.

He is convinced anyone who skis or goes camping is nuts.

He clearly remembers Babe Ruth's lifetime total of home runs, but thinks Mickey Mantle is a new-style cloak for ladies originated by a Dublin designer.

On paydays he brings his paycheck home, and can't recall off-hand when he cashed one himself.

Following the example of his children, he calls his wife "Mother" instead of by the pet nickname he once used.

He enjoys taking medicine more than he does eating a piece of candy.

He wakes up before the alarm clock goes off—and lies there remembering old times.

The younger men in the office, he feels sure, don't have the same morale and pride in their work he had when he first started—and which he still has.

He whimpers like a small child if his wife throws away any of his old clothes while cleaning out the closet.

He can't hum any tune that became popular in the last five years.

At a cocktail party he talks only to people he already knows.

Any dinner guest in his own home who stays after 11 p.m. becomes a mortal enemy.

He knows exactly how many years, months, weeks and days it is until he gets his pension.

As he goes through his daily routine of living, the question he silently asks of himself most often is, "When does the fun begin?"

That's middle age!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Business confidence today is just about where it was before President Kennedy made his tax-cut speech—as much wariness as confidence.

The talk is unlikely to have changed many opinions or to influence corporate or individual spending plans.

The debate will go on. The question is how best to stimulate the economy.

All that has been made clear is that the administration won't ask for a quickie tax cut this year—and that came as no surprise to business or stock market circles.

The President's view is that a thorough overhaul of the tax structure in 1963, lowering rates but lopping off some deductions and exemptions, would stimulate spending and thus business, and would offset any ill effects from a larger federal deficit.

The view of most businessmen is that any tax cut is a good thing, but—

And here even businessmen split into the two schools of thinking that have been debating the tax cut proposal this summer:

1. Government spending should be cut at the same time to try to restore balance to the federal budget, and regulation of business activities should be relaxed.

2. A federal deficit from a tax cut is an outworn bugaboo—it won't hurt the country at this time, and it probably would help spur the economic growth that all hands—business, labor and government—are urging.

Despite the President's persuasive speech, most businessmen probably still hold to the first line of thought.

The President went out of his way to soothe business critics by asserting that his program was aimed at an economy "where businessmen can invest with hope for the future" and at maintaining a "dollar good as gold."

It is this very slowdown in business investment planning—partly because of present productive capacity in excess of consumer demand, partly because of uncertainty over the future—that has fretted the administration this year.

One of the big arguments for a cut in tax rates on corporate incomes is that business would have more cash in hand to finance expansion. A chief result hoped for from the recent slash in time schedules for depreciation allowances was that corporations would use any savings to replace obsolete equipment.

It is still a question whether business will step up its spending plans. To date there is little evidence of it and some signs of still more waiting to see what Congress will do about taxes and whether another recession is in the making.

What business wants to know about a tax cut—and still doesn't know—is what kind is planned. Business would like to see the corporate rate brought down from 52 per cent, set as a temporary measure at the time of the Korean War. Most businessmen plug for a cut in the top personal income brackets as a means of stimulating the flow of cash into risk capital.

Labor prefers a cut in lower income brackets as increasing purchasing power.

And as of today no one knows just what exactly the administration will ask—nor what the Congress will do.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FEDERAL income tax officials have gotten used to tossing out some mighty farfetched deduction claims by ingenious taxpayers. The head of the Brooklyn bureau admits, however, that one delinquent came up with an explanation that hit a new high for sheer, unadulterated gall. This chap had been caught red-handed, claiming an exemption for supporting his mother—who had been dead a mere matter of ten years! His explanation (given with a catch in his voice): "Mother's still alive in my heart!"

No approver of all the newspaper mergers that have studied the history of American journalism in recent years was the late James Thurber. "One day," predicted Thurber dourly, "we're going to end up with just one newspaper for the entire country—and the whole front page will have to be devoted to the name."

Add to your file of the real, honest-to-goodness names of current movie heroes and heroines—Kirk Douglas is really Issur Danielovitch; Rock Hudson: Roy Fitzgerald; Tab Hunter: Arthur Gellen; Red Buttons: Aaron Chwatt; Bill Holden: William Beedle. On the distaff side, Shelley Winters is really Shirley Schmitt; Judy Holliday: Judith Tuvim; Cyd Charisse: Tula Finklea; Doris Day: Doris Kappelhoff.

Dear Doctor: My doctor's afraid to give me penicillin for a strep throat infection. It's already lingered eight months.

Can other medicines work as well?

Mrs. G. V. (Me.)
Dear Mrs. V.: Penicillin works like heavy artillery pointing straight down the throat of the strep germ. A few shots can wipe out all strep.

Perhaps your infection contains other germs that penicillin can't kill and only a different antibiotic germ-killer can do the whole job.

Dear Doctor: What is elephantiasis? My employer has it and her legs are really huge.

Mrs. M.C. (Wise.)
Dear Mrs. C.: Special "lymph" vessels help veins drain fluid from most tissues. Infection-scars, swollen glands (lymph nodes), tumors, even tight garters can block these lymph channels. The surgeon may have to cut them out.

Fluid can drain and bloating swells tissue to elephant-like proportion—elephantiasis.

Dear Doctor: How about a book "How Not To Kill Your Wife?"

More Kelseys Needed

By George Sokolsky

One sometimes has queer experiences with new drugs put on the market after plenty of laboratory tests but with inadequate clinical data.

Like many folks who have, a one time or another, been given a signal that man may be ambitious but not immortal, I need to meditate to keep going on a heavy schedule which takes between 12 and 15 hours of work each day. And most of the stuff I take seems to do me good, the proof being that I am still alive and kicking.

However once in a while I get a lulu. I cannot blame my doctor because I had, for months, argued with him that everybody was taking this wonder drug etc. etc. He said that he knew about it but that it had not been used long enough to convince him that the side effects were not perilous. Then one day, he prescribed it; not only for me but for other patients.

It did not hit down every patient, but I began to lose my hair, not only on my head but on my body. My head hair turned a pinkish white. It would have looked quite beautiful on an ancient female, but it was tough on me particularly when my eyebrows disappeared and my eyelashes turned pink. The bottoms of my feet went black and the lower ends of my legs became scaly.

Also I took on an itch, I thought it was the seven years itch but it only lasted a short but bothersome seven weeks. Every day, many times, my wife had to cover me from head to foot with a thick oil.

It took some time to discover which particular medicine was doing the mischief, but by trial and error and a little detective work the culprit was discovered and a cease and desist order was entered.

As soon as I desisted from taking the stuff, the itch ceased. Then the hair began to grow, thick and black, as it had not been for decades. The eyebrows came in a jet black. It took a little longer for the eyelashes to lose their albinism. Finally, my body was covered with black hair, a little too heavy and too much, but the proof of manliness was on the chest.

Looking back on all this, I can understand how enthusiastic laboratory workers and chemical companies become when they discover something that can save life. But one needs to study the side-effects and it is probably so that, in some instances, the side-effects can only be studied on human beings.

It is difficult for a layman to discuss these subjects intelligently because one needs to be trained in too many fields to have precise knowledge. What is needed is more Frances O. Kelseys to protect us from the consequences of over-enthusiasm or business greed in matters which affect human life. The evidence concerning thalidomide establishes not only the need for tighter law but a strengthening of the Federal Drug Administration so that it can do a bang-up job.

Sometimes, we have good laws but we do not give the agencies enough personnel and money to enforce them. The worst example of that was Harry J. Anslinger's Bureau of Narcotics, which was starved until the use of narcotics in this country became a public scandal. Anslinger's services to his country were legion and his Bureau, now under Henry J. Giordano, surely should be strengthened, until this plague is wiped from our land.

Dr. Kelsey had been deservedly honored by President Kennedy and he has called upon Congress to give the FDA additional authority. It would be wise for the drug and chemical industries to help the FDA and to organize to police themselves. They need to protect themselves not only from lawsuits but from the moral obligation of not destroying human life or maiming or crippling human beings. And it is to be hoped that the sensations over misjudgment will not encourage an inane attitude toward research. We do live longer and better despite the errors.

Rendezvous-in-Space Mission Said Next Major U.S. Goal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A Martin Co. rocket expert said that a manned rendezvous-in-space mission planned for launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla., will be a much greater achievement than the tandem orbits by the Soviet cosmonauts.

Bastian Hello, who is directing the phase of Project Gemini that the Martin Co. is developing here, said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration could have achieved tandem orbits in the current Mercury program if the agency had wanted to.

"Provided that we had another launching pad, we could achieve this on the next launch," Hello said. "We could have two capsules orbiting simultaneously."

Martin is engaged now in modifying the Titan II intercontinental ballistic missile, making it suitable for launching the Gemini capsule which carries two astronauts.

Gemini, if all goes well, will make contact in orbit with the unmanned Agena space vehicle. The Gemini flights may last as long as two weeks.

Hello said the Gemini launching was planned for late next year.

At Houston, Tex., however, officials of the manned spacecraft center gave the time as early 1964.

Appraised of this, the Martin Co. said it had not been informed of any change by the government officials and was going ahead on the basis of a launching late in 1963.

Hello said NASA needed only about a six-month advance notice to launch two one-man capsules which would pass very close to each other in orbit.

Although he said the United States could have done the same thing, Hello hailed the Soviet space flights as an achievement in timing.

Martin built the Air Force Titan II originally to deliver a nuclear warhead.

Since it is the most powerful rocket the United States has, it was selected to lift the 4,000-pound capsule in orbit.

Certain structural changes are being made so that the two-man capsule, which the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., is developing, can be fastened onto the nose of the 102-foot-tall Titan II.

Four High School Students Canoe Scioto to Kentucky

By STEVE JONES

Four Circleville youths, completing an adventuresome trip down the Scioto River to Kentucky, now have plenty of yarns to spin.

Taking part in the voyage were Peter DeNeef, 987 Lynwood Ave.; Jim Stewart, 338 Walnut St.; Carl Zehner Jr., 131 E. Mound St.; and John Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road. Their experiences will provide enough material for several essays in English when school starts next month.

The journey, a 70-mile trip taking less than two hours by auto, was 109 miles by the river and lasted five days. It was an adventurous and exciting week for the lads.

The rapids provided the most exciting portions of the trip, according to the quartet of Roundtown canoers. In one instance the canoe containing Barnhart and Zehner caught on a log. DeNeef waded out to help free it, but the current swirled him into a deep hole. However, with aid from John and Pete he made it to safety.

STEWART, on the bank, tried to get into the rescue act by throwing a rope to the floundering group. But he forgot to hold on to the other end of the line.

Several times the foursome "shot the rapids" in the dark. They were always successful outside of the one exception.

Industrial Output Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Widespread gains pushed industrial production to a record high in July, the Federal Reserve Board said Tuesday.

The board said its index measuring the output of factories, mines, and utilities increased by one point to a new peak of 119. Since 100 in the index represents average output in 1957, last month's production was 19 per cent higher than the average for that year.

The index was one of the principal economic indicators studied by President Kennedy in reaching his decision, announced Monday night, to reject a suggested immediate tax cut. In his address to the nation, Kennedy said that production reached a record level in July but did not give any figures.

While iron and steel production was little changed from June, auto output rose 10 per cent following settlement of a strike that curbed Ford operations in June. July auto assemblies also were slightly higher than the advanced May rate.

TODAY In History

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 15, the 227th day of 1962. There are 138 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1944, Allied invasion of France from the south was begun in World War II when infantry forces landed between Nice and Marseilles.

On this date:

In 1776, the first division of about 8,000 Hessian mercenaries landed on Staten Island, N. Y., during the Revolutionary War.

In 1867, English democracy was established with Parliament's passage of the Second Reform Bill.

In 1914, the Panama Canal was opened officially.

In 1935, American humorist Will Rogers and aviator Wiley Post were killed when their plane crashed near Point Barrow, Alaska.

In 1950, Assam in Northern India was the scene of one of history's worst earthquakes. About 1,000 persons were killed and thousands of acres of land were destroyed.

Today's birthdays: Industrialist Harlowe Curtice is 69. Novelist Edna Ferber is 75. Thought for today:

Parents do not know what they do when they leave tender babes alone to go to sleep in the dark. —Charles Lamb.

Alcohol Problem

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Although alcoholism annually costs South Africa $140 million in lost man hours and accidents, the country is spending "practically nothing" on its study and cure, complains A. J. Pienaar, secretary of the National Council on Alcoholism.

He said his society believes that alcoholism claims more victims in South Africa than cancer, polio and tuberculosis combined and "it has a far greater disrupting effect on the lives of sufferers than probably any other illness."

When the trip was finished the excitement was far from over, at least not for Rev. Carl Zehner. The lads called Rev. Zehner from Portsmouth Friday to announce their safe arrival and to ask him to pick them up. He drove down, in spite of the fact that he had a wedding to perform Friday evening.

You guessed it—he was late for the wedding.

DeNeef aptly expressed the feeling of the boys when he said "I enjoyed it very much, but I don't like walking to Kentucky on my hands — yet I think I'd do it again."

New Scanner Reads 24,000 Cards Hourly

CINCINNATI (AP) — An electronic scanner, capable of "reading" as many as 24,000 premium payments stubs in an hour, was put into operation here today in the home offices of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co.

The new electronic device, is called the "IBM 1418 optical scanner."

The scanner is being used initially to read data from the premium payment stubs directly into a computer for high-speed processing. The information on the stub

Speeders Clocked

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — During a convention of justices of the peace, state police decided to demonstrate what they argue are three nearly infallible methods of gauging automobile speeds.

Radar, electric timers and airplane observations were employed simultaneously to measure car speeds on an airport runway. Officials said the three methods agreed within a mile an hour on cars traveling up to 100 miles an hour.

—such as policy number and payment—is simultaneously recorded on magnetic tape and processed by the W. & S. computer installation.

Main feature of the scanner is its ability to read conventionally typed or printed numerical data directly into a computer. The data can be read from various sized documents at a rate of 400 documents a minute. The end result is a major improvement in the massive premium accounting operation, with emphasis on greater efficiency and the ability to cope with peak volumes of policyholder transactions.

Walked Far to Mom

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — When a teen-ager ran away one night from a lakeside boys' camp for delinquents, Kentucky welfare officials searched vainly for him for two days.

Then, shoes torn and feet blistered, the boy showed up 225 miles away at his much stricter former training institution.

"Hi, mom," he told a house parent. "I've come back home."

Officials let him stay.

MRS. RICHARD A. DEAN

Miss Gifford, Mr. Dean Are United in Marriage

Miss Peggy Ann Gifford became the bride of Mr. Richard A. Dean at 10:30 a. m. July 20 in St. Joseph's Church.

Miss Gifford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Gifford, Route 1. Mr. Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean, Route 4.

The Very Rev. Monsignor George Mason performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, white pompons and huckleberry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta designed with a Sabrina neckline, three quarter length sleeves and a fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt was accented in the back with tiers of white nylon tulle ruffles. A crown of iridescent held her waist length veil of net, and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and pink carnations centered with a lavender and white orchid with pink streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom and she carried a white lace handkerchief given to her by her great-grandmother.

Miss Sandra Gifford, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of powder blue nylon over taffeta featuring a very bouffant skirt and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with pink and white streamers. Her matching pearl necklace and earrings were a gift from the bride.

Mr. Eugene Dean, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Mr. James Dean, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Edward Gifford, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Gifford chose for her daughter's wedding a beige embroidered sheath dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Dean, the bridegroom's mother, wore a beige dress with white accessories and they both wore corsages of tangerine cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake. White daisies, white pompons, baby's breath, snapdragons and huckleberry completed the decorations.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Gene Stonerock, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Edwin Dean, aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. Harry Wright and Mrs. Robert Valentine.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Dean wore a mint green dress with a white lace jacket and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Logan Elm High School and was previously employed at the Curtis Hix Real Estate office.

Mr. Dean is a 1962 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed at the Circleville Metal Works.

The couple will reside in Stoutsville. Out of city guests for the wedding were from Washington C. H., Marion, Hamilton, Harrison, Oxford, Gallion, Kenton, Cleveland and Custer.

Ever added water chestnuts and sauteed green onions (sliced thin crosswise) to steamed rice?

Garden Club Observes Anniversary

Roundtown Garden Club members met at the home of Mrs. Harold Pontious, Route 1, for their regular monthly meeting. They also observed the units fifth anniversary.

Martha Peters, president, conducted the business meeting. Officers elected for the coming year were Maxine Pontious, president; Peggy Swank, vice president and program chairman; Rosemary Crabtree, secretary; Olive Hettlinger, treasurer; Mary Lutz, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgardner, guest speaker, discussed oriental arrangements. She made four beautiful Japanese arrangements and demonstrated methods used in making them.

Each member brought an oriental arrangement and Mrs. Bumgardner judged the winners as follows: first, Peggy Swank; second, Rosemary Crabtree; third, Mrs. Doris Roof.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pontious and co-hostess, Martha Peters.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Blaney with Mrs. John Beck as co-hostess.

Annual Family Reunion Held By Members

The annual reunion of the Henry and Julia Ann Drake Kerns Family was held at the Laurelville Park Shelterhouse recently with 81 present.

Mr. Martin Drake offered a prayer preceding dinner.

The business meeting was opened with the group repeating the 23 Psalm. Mrs. Jacob Glitt, president, conducted the business meeting and Jacob Glitt, secretary, gave reports.

Gifts were presented to Albert Kerns Sr., the only member of the family present and also the oldest member present, Miss Tracy Joe Litter, the youngest member present and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Drake and Miss Ara Drake for traveling the farthest distance.

Dan Kerns of Lima was unable to attend. Otis Gatewood was a guest.

Amos Kerns was presented a flashlight from the group in appreciation of his taking care of the shelterhouse and tables for every reunion.

Games and contests were conducted for the children by Jacob Glitt and James Stewart. Darlene Thomas won the bean contest.

The meeting adjourned following a very enjoyable day.

Circleville, Ohio

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

In Protest!

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote in to your column saying that her daughter "frizzed her hair out until she looked like a Fiji Islander." Pardon me, but I am a Fiji Islander and my hair is NOT "frizzed out."

It grieves me that most otherwise fairly intelligent people are so ignorant of out culture. The majority of Fiji Islanders are Christians and can read and write. We are not primitive savages as many believe, but are more civilized in many respects than some Americans, Europeans, Canadians and South Americans. Respectfully yours,

VITU LEVU

DEAR ABBY: A man who works where I work has been after me for some time. I refused to go out with him because I have heard he is married and I don't want to get involved with a married man. He said he has a "legal separation" which automatically becomes a divorce after a certain length of time. Is this true? Is there any future in my dating this man?

DEAR DECENT: A legal separation never "automatically" becomes a divorce. If you are eligible for marriage, don't waste your time with a man who isn't.

DEAR ABBY: Every girl I date cries on my shoulder and tells me about her fouled-up love life. I'd like a girl to be interested in me for myself, not as a "friend" who can give her tips on how to get another guy. I am not bad looking, no drinker, a steady worker and 30 years old already. I want to get married. So what do I do now?

THE BIG BROTHER TYPE
DEAR BROTHER TYPE: If you play the supporting role of big brother too often you'll never get the romantic lead. Start with fresh talent. Don't waste shoulder space on the weepers. And tell the ladies with "Fouled-up love lives" to tell it to Abby.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE BATTLING FITZGERALDS: Kiss and make up. You know you can't live without each other.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Goofing Off

His choice of words may not have been that customarily made by a college president, but when Dr. Houston Cole told a conference of Alabama high school principals this is the age of the goof off, he hit the nail squarely on the head.

It takes some getting used to, but an honest appraisal of modern society reveals the primary idea seems to be how much enjoyment can be squeezed out of the leisure hours, and not how much work can be produced during the working hours.

This is called goofing off, and it extends to the working hours as well as that growing chunk of day when nobody is expected to do anything worthwhile anyway. Dr. Cole, who is president of Jacksonville,

Ala., State College, mentioned the results of a survey which, he said, indicated that even within the eight-hour workday are contained about four hours of goofing off.

You know — time spent beating a path to the water cooler, in those prolonged coffee breaks and of course those very important discussions of office politics.

It seems the average worker isn't waiting for unions to hand him a shorter work week. He has managed to knock it down to 20 hours all by himself. One wonders at times, during prolonged backyard hammock sessions, who is responsible for the continuing rise in national productivity and the highest standard of living in the world.

Whoever he is, he deserves fitting recognition. Like a nice long vacation.

Ghana

The recent statement by President Nkrumah to the convention of the People's Party of his country that Ghana has as its objective a one-party state with the party being the administration as well as the governing unit is a reminder of the trend in African countries.

Most of the former colonies of Britain and France had experience with the liberal traditions of government as expressed by the two mother countries — the right of minorities to fight constitutionally for their viewpoints and be a focus of criticism of the current regimes.

But these traditions have fallen by the wayside in nearly all the French-speaking lands and in most of those formerly ruled by Britain. Nkrumah is not breaking new ground. He is merely making his country conform to the African pattern. And neither is it entirely African.

A few weeks ago Pakistan President Mohammad Ayub Khan said that the United Nations should help new countries devise forms of democratic governments suitable to their own character instead of copying standard Western systems.

Khan calls his one-party state in Pakistan "basic democracy." It consists of giving electoral responsibility only to "persons of status in their communities, thus eliminating elections by masses of voters in a population 85 per cent illiterate.

How To Tell Middle-Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you middle-aged?

Middle age is like heaven in one respect—many people respect it, but few are in any hurry to get there.

It is a condition that is measured more by your actions and how you feel than the mere number of your years. A man of 35 may be middle-aged while one of 50 is still a mere overripe adolescent.

There is no doubt, however, when a woman reaches middle age. It is the day when she publicly admits for the first time that she is 60 at last. This is usually the day before her 62nd birthday, when she applies to Uncle Sam for Social Security.

Men are the borderline cases. But a man is probably middle-aged if—

His wife, instead of asking how he slept the night before, inquires, "How did you rest?"

He dreams more about his job than he does about romance.

He spends more time discussing the unpredictability of the weather than the unpredictability of women.

When he opens his morning paper, he turns first to the obituary columns, second to the business news section, and third to the sports pages.

His son quits borrowing his neckties because they look old-fashioned.

He votes against a community bond issue to build a new grammar school.

He is convinced anyone who skis or goes camping is nuts.

He clearly remembers Babe Ruth's lifetime total of home runs, but thinks Mickey Mantle is a new-style cloak for ladies originated by a Dublin designer.

On paydays he brings his paycheck home, and can't recall off-hand when he cashed one himself.

Following the example of his children, he calls his wife "Mother" instead of by the pet nickname he once used.

than he does eating a piece of candy.

He wakes up before the alarm clock goes off—and lies there remembering old times.

The younger men in the office, he feels sure, don't have the same morale and pride in their work he had when he first started—and which he still has.

He whimpers like a small child if his wife throws away any of his old clothes while cleaning out the closet.

He can't hum any tune that became popular in the last five years.

At a cocktail party he talks only to people he already knows. Any dinner guest in his own home who stays after 11 p.m. becomes a mortal enemy.

He knows exactly how many years, months, weeks and days it is until he gets his pension.

As he goes through his daily routine of living, the question he silently asks of himself most often is, "When does the fun begin?" That's middle age!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Business confidence today is just about where it was before President Kennedy made his tax-cut speech—as much wariness as confidence.

The talk is unlikely to have changed many opinions or to influence corporate or individual spending plans.

The debate will go on. The question is how best to stimulate the economy.

All that has been made clear is that the administration won't ask for a quickie tax cut this year—and that came as no surprise to business or stock market circles.

The President's view is that a thorough overhaul of the tax structure in 1963, lowering rates but lopping off some deductions and exemptions, would stimulate spending and thus business, and would offset any ill effects from a larger federal deficit.

The view of most businessmen is that any tax cut is a good thing, but—

And here even businessmen split into the two schools of thinking that have been debating the tax cut proposal this summer:

1. Government spending should be cut at the same time to try to restore balance to the federal budget, and regulation of business activities should be relaxed.

2. A federal deficit from a tax cut is an outworn bugaboo—it won't hurt the country at this time, and it probably would help spur the economic growth that all hands—business, labor and government—are urging.

Despite the President's persuasive speech, most businessmen probably still hold to the first line of thought.

The President went out of his way to soothe business critics by asserting that his program "where businessmen can invest with hope for the future" and at maintaining a "dollar good as gold."

It is this very slowdown in business investment planning—partly because of present productive capacity in excess of consumer demand, partly because of uncertainty over the future—that has fretted the administration this year.

One of the big arguments for a cut in tax rates on corporate incomes is that business would have more cash in hand to finance expansion. A chief result hoped for from the recent slash in time schedules for depreciation allowances was that corporations would use any savings to replace obsolete equipment.

It is still a question whether business will step up its spending plans. To date there is little evidence of it and some signs of still more waiting to see what Congress will do about taxes and whether another recession is in the making.

What business wants to know about a tax cut—and still doesn't know—is what kind is planned. Business would like to see the corporate rate brought down from 52 per cent, set as a temporary measure at the time of the Korean War. Most businessmen plug for a cut in the top personal income brackets as a means of stimulating the flow of cash into risk capital.

Labor prefers a cut in lower income brackets as increasing purchasing power.

And as of today no one knows just what exactly the administration will ask—nor what the Congress will do.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FEDERAL income tax officials have gotten used to tossing out some mighty far-fetched deduction claims by ingenious taxpayers. The head of the Brooklyn bureau admits,

however, that one delinquent came up with an explanation that hit a new high for sheer, unadulterated gall. This chap had been caught red-handed, claiming an exemption for supporting his mother — who had been dead a mere matter of ten years! His explanation (given with a catch in his voice): "Mother's still alive in my heart!"

No approver of all the newspaper mergers that have studied the history of American journalism in recent years was the late James Thurber. "One day," predicted Thurber dourly, "we're going to end up with just one newspaper for the entire country—and the whole front page will have to be devoted to the name."

Add to your file of the real, honest-to-goodness names of current movie heroes and heroines — Kirk Douglas is really Issur Danielovitch; Rock Hudson: Roy Fitzgerald; Tab Hunter: Arthur Gellen; Red Buttons: Aaron Chwatt; Bill Holden: William Beedle. On the rediff side, Shelley Winters is really Shirley Schriff; Judy Holliday: Judith Tuvin; Cyd Charisse: Tula Finklea; Doris Day: Doris Kappelhoff.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: My doctor's afraid to give me penicillin for a strep throat infection. It's already lingering eight months.

Can other medicines work as well?

Mrs. G. V. (Me.)

Dear Mrs. V: Penicillin works like heavy artillery pointing straight down the throat of the strep germ. A few shots can wipe out all strep.

Perhaps your infection contains other germs that penicillin can't kill and only a different antibiotic germ-killer can do the whole job.

Dear Doctor: What is elephantiasis? My employer has it and her legs are really huge.

Mrs. M.C. (Wise.)

Dear Mrs. C: Special "lymph" vessels help veins drain fluid from most tissue. Infection-scars, swollen glands (lymph nodes), tumors, even tight garters can block these lymph channels. The surgeon may have to cut them out.

Fluid can drain and bloating swells tissue to elephant-like proportion — elephantiasis.

Dear Doctor: How about a book "How Not To Kill Your Wife?"

More Kelseys Needed

By George Sokolsky

One sometimes has queer experiences with new drugs put on the market after plenty of laboratory tests but with inadequate clinical data.

Like many folks who have, a one time or another, been given a signal that man may be ambitious but not immortal, I need to medicate to keep going on a heavy schedule which takes between 12 and 15 hours of work each day. And most of the stuff I take seems to do me good, the proof being that I am still alive and kicking.

However once in a while I get a lulu. I cannot blame my doctor because I had, for months, argued with him that everybody was taking this wonder drug etc. etc. He said that he knew about it but that it had not been used long enough to convince him that the side effects were not perilous. Then one day, he prescribed it; not only for me but for other patients.

It did not hit down every patient, but I began to lose my hair, not only on my head but on my body. My head hair turned a pinkish white. It would have looked quite beautiful on an ancient female, but it was tough on me particularly when my eyebrows disappeared and my eyelashes turned pink. The bottoms of my feet went black and the lower ends of my legs became scaly.

Also I took on an itch, I thought it was the seven years itch but it only lasted a short but bothersome seven weeks. Every day, many times, my wife had to cover me from head to foot with a thick oil.

It took some time to discover which particular medicine was doing the mischief, but by trial and error and a little detective work the culprit was discovered and a cease and desist order was entered.

As soon as I desisted from taking the stuff, the itch ceased. Then the hair began to grow, thick and black, as it had not been for decades. The eyebrows came in a jet black. It took a little longer for the eyelashes to lose their albino pink. Finally, my body was covered with black hair, a little too heavy and too much, but the proof of manliness was on the chest.

Looking back on all this, I can understand how enthusiastic laboratory workers and chemical companies become when they discover something that can save life. But one needs to study the side-effects and it is probably so that, in some instances, the side-effects can only be studied on human beings.

It is difficult for a layman to discuss these subjects intelligently because one needs to be trained in too many fields to have precise knowledge. What is needed is more Frances O. Kelseys to protect us from the consequences of over-enthusiasm or business greed in matters which affect human life. The evidence concerning thalidomide establishes not only the need for tighter law but a strengthening of the Federal Drug Administration so that it can do a bang-up job.

Sometimes, we have good laws but we do not give the agencies enough personnel and money to enforce them. The worst example of that was Harry J. Anslinger's Bureau of Narcotics, which was starved until the use of narcotics in this country became a public scandal. Anslinger's services to his country were legion and his Bureau, now under Henry J. Giordano, surely should be strengthened until this plague is wiped from our land.

Dr. Kelsey had been deservedly honored by President Kennedy and he has called upon Congress to give the FDA additional authority. It would be wise for the drug and chemical industries to help themselves not only from law suits but from the moral obligation of not destroying human life or maiming or crippling human beings. And it is to be hoped that the sensations over misjudgment will not encourage an inane attitude toward research. We do live longer and better despite the errors.

Rendezvous-in-Space Mission Said Next Major U.S. Goal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A Martin Co. rocket expert said that a manned rendezvous-in-space mission planned for launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla., will be a much greater achievement than the tandem orbits by the Soviet cosmonauts.

Bastian Hello, who is directing the phase of Project Gemini that the Martin Co. is developing here, said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration could have achieved tandem orbits in the current Mercury program if the agency had wanted to.

"Provided that we had another launching pad, we could achieve this on the next launch," Hello said. "We could have two capsules orbiting simultaneously."

Martin is engaged now in modifying the Titan II intercontinental ballistic missile, making it suitable for launching the Gemini capsule which carries two astronauts.

Gemini, if all goes well, will make contact in orbit with the unmanned Agena space vehicle. The Gemini flights may last as long as two weeks.

Hello said the Gemini launching was planned for late next year.

At Houston, Tex., however, officials of the manned spacecraft center gave the time as early 1964.

Appraised of this, the Martin Co. said it had not been informed of any change by the government of officials and was going ahead on the basis of a launching late in 1963.

Hello said NASA needed only about a six-month advance notice to launch two one-man capsules which would pass very close to each other in orbit.

Although he said the United States could have done the same thing, Hello hailed the Soviet space flights as an achievement in timing.

Martin built the Air Force Titan II originally to deliver a nuclear warhead.

Since it is the most powerful rocket the United States has, it was selected to lift the 4,000-pound capsule in orbit.

Certain structural changes are being made so the two-man capsule, which the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, Mo., is developing, can be fastened onto the nose of the 102-foot-tall Titan II.

Farm Roundup

Cooking Oil Factions Wage Rising Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new fight, rivaling that waged for years between butter and margarine, is developing between animal fats and vegetable oils. The outcome could have significant effects on farm production patterns.

At the center of this rising conflict is the question of whether the animal or vegetable fats have a relation to levels of cholesterol in the blood—a substance suspected by some medical authorities of having an influence on the hardening of the arteries associated with heart troubles.

Producers of animal fats—particularly dairy fats consumed in the form of butter and cream as well as in whole milk and other dairy products—are protesting claims of distributors of some vegetable oils that the latter products are more healthful than the animal fats.

The latest flareup between the two classes of food fats was touched off by a statement of the American Medical Association, offering guidance to physicians for experimenting with fats in diets of patients with heart and associated diseases. The statement has been interpreted by some as an endorsement of vegetable fats over animal fats.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last year's tobacco crop put a record $1.3 billion into pockets of growers, the Agriculture Department reported today. This topped the previous record, set in 1955, by $95 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor costs for marketing domestic farm foods to civilian consumers reached a record high of $18.9 billion last year. This was $500 million more than in 1960.

The labor bill last year was nearly 50 per cent higher than 10 years earlier.

Reporting this, the Agriculture Department said the amount paid labor was only $1.9 billion less than the amount farmers received for the food products and raw materials they sold last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service had found in a survey that less than one-third of the nation's farm youth are attending college. This compares with about half the youths in urban areas.

Stag Party

WICHITA (AP) — A newspaper carrier, Stanley W. Brown, 17, and his dog, Midnight, were startled by a crash and tinkling glass as they made their rounds early one morning.

Brown stared at the broken window of the office of Charles F. Curry Co., and could see a young stag deer bounding around inside, jumping upon and over desks and chairs.

Stanley ran to call police. Midnight ran home.

Several attempts to capture the deer were unsuccessful. Finally it leaped out the window and hasn't been seen since.

The Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz., and the National Geographic Society have teamed to produce an atlas of the nearby bright planets from Mercury to Saturn.

Ohio Congressman Likes Hi-Jinks, Takes Ride on Caroline's Tricycle

Surprising? Not if the congressman is William H. Ayres, R-Ohio.

This ex-plumber from Akron is one of the most unusual of the 437 characters in the House of Representatives.

Ayres tricycle ride exhibited just one side of his successful political formula of showmanship and service that sent him to Congress from a district where only Democrats had preceded him for nearly 30 years.

Sometimes brash, usually interesting, the 46-year-old congressman can teach a lot to politicians and would-be politicians. He just naturally attracts attention, and he's getting more than usual these days from members jittery about their chances for re-election.

"I just apply business promotion to politics—in other words, my goal is a satisfied customer," Ayres explains.

The "customers," Democrats two to one, have been letting Republican Ayres mind the store for them in Washington for 12 years of service.

Ayres said he learned from his father, a Methodist minister: "when you help people they don't forget it. When I help a Democrat, he doesn't look on me as a Republican."

The Ayres' formula drew little but derisive laughter when he deserted his plumbing and heating business in 1950 to run for his first term because he was irked at what he considered too strict government regulation of small business.

When they found out he had never even voted in a Republican primary, "they said I was a dead duck."

Professional politicians laughed even harder, he said, at such amateur campaign tricks as inviting voters to hurl darts at balloons labeled, "knock the air out of Ayres."

And "they shuddered," he added, at political advertisements showing a snapshot of him as a tot in a long dress with this appeal to voters:

"At age one, Bill Ayres' mother helped him across the Ohio River . . . at age 34, Bill Ayres needs your help if you want him across the Potomac."

Actually, the old snapshot turned out to be one of his sister. "I didn't find it out until after the campaign," he said with a grin.

Whatever professionals think of Ayres now, the laughter is mingled with respect.

Republicans who once "apologized for throwing me to the wolves" frequently seek to emulate his successful tactics, and Democrats still try to figure out a way to deflate the Ayres political balloon.

His publicity antics have ranged from the White House tricycle ride to the twist in a Washington ballroom. He even persuaded a famous seed company to name a variety of marigold after his wife, Mary Helen.

Ayres says his office was flooded with applications to his "sons of Business Society," which he originated as a gag to capitalize on President Kennedy's S.O.B. punctuated run-in with the steel industry. Proceeds from the 25-cent "memberships" will go to orphanages. (A Harvard scholarship was originally planned, but the university turned down the money.)

The tricycle incident came about when Ayres decided to present an Akron-made trike for Caroline to illustrate "why nothing happens in the economy of this country until somebody sells something."

Ayres said the Kennedys thanked him politely at the White House presentation ceremony, but little Caroline did not appear. "What are you going to do with it?" newsmen asked.

"If Caroline doesn't show I'll ride on it myself," he replied—and did.

If he likes the limelight, he also does his homework on the House Veterans Affairs Committee, of which he is the ranking Republican. If the GOP takes control of the House this year, he will be chairman.

Mental Alarm Clock Possible

Q. I have two friends who can just "set their mind" to get up at a certain time. Is it possible that they have some kind of built-in alarm clock?

A. Normal adults have a waking-sleeping cycle that measures time in units of 24 hours. A number of cues are associated with various times of the day and the sleeping-waking cycle. One cue associated with the sleep pattern is body temperature. It is possible that in going to sleep a person might "set" the number of hours he would like to sleep, and when a certain change in temperature occurs, would awaken. The desire to get up at a certain time might also produce a condition of anxiety which would attune him to an internal cue, such as temperature change.

Sodium Fluoride Tablets

Q. I have been taking sodium fluoride tablets to prevent tooth decay. Should I continue taking them now that I am pregnant?

A. It would be best to check with your physician. So far as we know, there would be no harm in continuing.

Warts

Q. Please give me some information on warts. I have about 15 on my neck. What causes them?

A. To most people any sort of skin tag or elevated growth is a wart. Warts are harmless (some may be caused by a virus) whereas certain other growths can be serious. Under the circumstances, let your physician decide what to do. Of one thing you can be certain—it's the height of folly to use "do-it-yourself" wart cures. It is our purpose to render professional prescription services and to offer the finest quality health aids and sickroom supplies.

Four High School Students Canoe Scioto to Kentucky

By STEVE JONES

Four Circleville youths, completing an adventuresome trip down the Scioto River to Kentucky, now have plenty of yarns to spin.

Taking part in the voyage were Peter DeNeef, 987 Lynwood Ave.; Jim Stewart, 338 Walnut St.; Carl Zehner Jr., 131 E. Mound St.; and John Barnhart, 200 Northridge Road. Their experiences will provide enough material for several essays in English when school starts next month.

The journey, a 70-mile trip taking less than two hours by auto, was 109 miles by the river and lasted five days. It was an adventurous and exciting week for the lads.

The rapids provided the most exciting portions of the trip, according to the quartet of Roundtown canoeists. In one instance the canoe containing Barnhart and Zehner waded out to help free it, but the current swirled him into a deep hole. However, with aid from John and Pete he made it to safety.

STEWART, on the bank, tried to get into the rescue act by throwing a rope to the floundering group. But he forgot to hold on to the other end of the line.

Several times the foursome "shot the rapids" in the dark. They were always successful outside of the one exception.

Finding a suitable camping spot was one of the most difficult problems of the journey. It was usually late in the day when the

Industrial Output Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Widespread gains pushed industrial production to a record high in July, the Federal Reserve Board said Tuesday.

The board said its index measuring the output of factories, mines, and utilities increased by one point to a new peak of 119. Since 100 in the index represents average output in 1957, last month's production was 19 per cent higher than the average for that year.

The index was one of the principal economic indicators studied by President Kennedy in reaching his decision, announced Monday night, to reject a suggested immediate tax cut. In his address to the nation, Kennedy said that production reached a record level in July but did not give any figures.

While iron and steel production was little changed from June, auto output rose 10 per cent following settlement of a strike that curbed Ford operations in June. July auto assemblies also were slightly higher than the advanced May rate.

boys decided to turn in.

Zehner was chief cook for the group. According to his companions, he did a fine job. Camp chow ranged from Italian ravioli to good old American biscuits.

After camp was made and supper over the boys usually tumbled right into their sleeping bags for a good night's rest. A full day padding a canoe is no easy job, even going down stream, they readily agreed.

Barnhart was historian for the group. He entertained with tales of early Indian history connected with the route they were following.

ALL AGREED that the stretch of river from Piketon to Portsmouth was the most scenic and the most pleasant sector of the journey.

The worst pollution encountered, according to the boys, was at the mouth of Paint Creek at Chillicothe. It extended for about 10 miles below Chillicothe. For the remainder of the journey the river was fairly clean.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies cleared Tuesday night as high pressure settled over Ohio. The unseasonably cool air mass broke many low temperature records around the state, many of which had stood for 40 or more years.

Some areas where records were broken included Columbus with 49 Akron 48, Dayton 47 and Cleveland 44, the latter breaking the old record by nine degrees. The lowest temperature was registered at Pandora in Northwest Ohio where it dropped to 43.

Sunny weather will be general over Ohio today as high pressure dominates the state. Afternoon temperatures will be mostly in the 70s.

It will be clear and cool again tonight, but it will warm up some Thursday as winds turn to southerly. There may be scattered showers by Thursday evening.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average one to three degrees below normal. Normal high 79 - 83, normal low 59-64. Warner Thursday, cooler Friday and Saturday, warmer Monday. Rainfall will average one-fourth to one-half inch in scattered showers late Thursday or Friday.

TODAY In History

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 15, the 227th day of 1962. There are 138 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1944, Allied invasion of France from the south was begun in World War II when infantry forces landed between Nice and Marseilles.

On this date:

In 1776, the first division of about 8,000 Hessian mercenaries landed on Staten Island, N. Y., during the Revolutionary War.

In 1867, English democracy was established with Parliament's passage of the Second Reform Bill.

In 1914, the Panama Canal was opened officially.

In 1935, American humorist Will Rogers and aviator Wiley Post were killed when their plane crashed near Point Barrow, Alaska.

In 1950, Assam in Northern India was the scene of one of history's worst earthquakes. About 1,000 persons were killed and thousands of acres of land were destroyed.

Today's birthdays: Industrialist Harlowe Curtice is 69. Novelist Edna Ferber is 75. Thought for today:

Parents do not know what they do when they leave tender babes alone to go to sleep in the dark. —Charles Lamb.

Alcohol Problem

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Although alcoholism annually costs South Africa $140 million in lost man hours and accidents, the country is spending "practically nothing" on its study and cure, complains A. J. Pienaar, secretary of the National Council on Alcoholism.

He said his society believes that alcoholism slams more victims in South Africa than cancer, polio and tuberculosis combined and "it has a far greater disrupting effect on the lives of sufferers than probably any other illness."

WHEN the trip was finished the excitement was far from over, at least not for Rev. Carl Zehner.

The lads called Rev. Zehner from Portsmouth Friday to announce their safe arrival and to ask him to pick them up.

He drove down, in spite of the fact that he had a wedding to perform Friday evening.

You guessed it—he was late for the wedding. DeNeef aptly expressed the feeling of the boys when he said "I enjoyed it very much, but I don't like walking to Kentucky on my hands — yet I think I'd do it again."

New Scanner Reads 24,000 Cards Hourly

CINCINNATI (AP) — An electronic scanner, capable of "reading" as many as 24,000 premium payments stubs in an hour, was put into operation here today in the home offices of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co.

Western and Southern officials said the company is the first insurance firm in the United States to use such a device. It is part of a multi-million dollar modernization and expansion program.

The new electronic device, is called the "IBM 1418 optical scanner."

The scanner is being used initially to read data from the premium payment stubs directly into

Speeders Clocked

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — During a convention of justices of the peace, state police decided to demonstrate what they argue are three nearly infallible methods of gauging automobile speeds.

Radar, electric timers and airplane observations were employed simultaneously to measure car speeds on an airport runway. Officials said the three methods agreed within a mile an hour on cars traveling up to 100 miles an hour.

—such as policy number and payment—is simultaneously recorded on magnetic tape and processed by the W. & S. computer installation.

Main feature of the scanner is its ability to read conventionally typed or printed numerical data directly into a computer. The data can be read from various sized documents at a rate of 400 documents a minute. The end result is a major improvement in the massive premium accounting operation, with emphasis on greater efficiency and the ability to cope with peak volumes of policyholder transactions.

Walked Far to Mom
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — When a teen-ager ran away one night from a lakeside boys' camp for delinquents, Kentucky welfare officials searched vainly for him for two days.

Then, shoes torn and feet blistered, the boy showed up 225 miles away at his much stricter former training institution.

"Hi, mom," he told a house parent. "I've come back home."

Officials let him stay.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's some benefit from running second if you run long enough. You get used to being disappointed. Americans are getting used to being beaten by the Russians in space.

This explains why the American reaction to the latest Soviet achievement—two men in orbit at once—is far more restrained than it was, say, in 1957 when the Russians first moved out in front.

That year they startled the world by putting the first satellite, their Sputnik, in orbit. Several senators demanded an investigation at once. One called it a devastating blow to American prestige.

But a Wisconsin Republican, Sen. Alexander Wiley, seemed to sum up the national feeling best. He said: "Facts are facts. Some one has goofed."

A second shock came a month later when the Russians put a dog in orbit. Animal lovers protested. Future historians, though, may be puzzled why no one protested later when men were put in orbit.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles acknowledged the Russians were ahead. President Eisenhower sought to soothe the unhappy national mood. While acknowledging the Soviet achievement, he said: "Earth satellites, in themselves, have no direct present effect upon the nation's security."

This was cold comfort for a nation which liked to think it led the world in scientific accomplishments. After all, it was the United States which had invented the atomic bomb.

A Senate investigation was held. Several steps were taken to speed up space development. To some optimists it might have seemed only a matter of a short time before this country would sail out in front.

It didn't work out that way. The Russians still figured to be out in front for a long time for this reason: They had developed larger and more powerful rockets, able to carry bigger loads, than the United States.

American spirits got a big lift when on Jan. 31, 1958, this country put its first satellite, Explorer, aloft. But a Washington Democrat, Sen. Henry Jackson, warned it was no time to be smug or complacent.

It was a wise thought. A year later, Jan. 2, 1959, the Russians sent another satellite, Lunik I, past the moon and into orbit around the sun. Three months later the American ego was re-

Ohio General Fund Receipts Show Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's general revenue fund receipts were off nearly a half-million dollars last month with expenditures up more than $11 million over July of 1961, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported Tuesday.

The auditor's report said receipts were $55,053,407, a decline of $434,559 from the July 1961 general revenue fund receipts. At the same time, he said in the 216,220, an increase of $11,072,205 over the $1,144,014 spent out of the general revenue fund during July 1961.

Rhodes said total tax revenues received last month amounted to $30,325,789, a drop of $2,057,762 from the July 1961 figure. He said the declines included: Insurance, off $3,310,297, and the use tax receipts, off $445,899.

Off-setting in part this drop were increases in these fields: Horse racing, up $511,503; sales tax, up $313,343; cigarettes, up $250,915; inheritance, up $225,606; intangibles, up $211,001; corporations, up $142,465; beer, wine and malt, up $23,180, and liquor gallonage, up $20,423.

Goldwater OKs Jokes Pointed at Politicians

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater watched himself being lampooned by the Circus Saints and Sinners, then came out four-square for the practice of poking fun at politicians.

The actor portraying Goldwater said that he liked the White House very much. "Jackie Kennedy did it all over in 18th century style. That's right up my alley."

stored a bit when the United States put a satellite, Pioneer IV, into solar orbit.

It was short-lived satisfaction. On Sept. 14, 1959, the Russians hit the moon just as Premier Khrushchev arrived in this country to crow about it. And on April 12, 1961, they hit the jackpot.

They sent Maj. Yuri Gagarin—the first man in space—into one orbit around the earth. President Kennedy conceded at a news conference it would take this country some time to put heavy payloads into space.

Americans said things like "fantastic" and "amazing," there was a kind of general debate on how to improve the situation, and a Pennsylvania Republican, Rep. James G. Fulton, expressed the national mood best: "I'm darn well tired of coming in second."

Within the next three months this country put two men into a SUBORBITAL FLIGHT—Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Capt. Virgil I. Gribbin—but their brief flights, although heartening, were no match for Gagarin's.

And, as if to prove it, on Aug. 6, 1961, the Russians showed their superiority in space by launching Maj. Gherman S. Titov on 17 trips around the earth.

This makes it easy to understand why Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., on Feb. 20, 1962, became a national hero when he went around the earth three times. He had restored the national ego.

Since Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter last May 24 merely duplicated Glenn's three orbits, it is easy to understand why he did not get quite the same reaction as Glenn. By then America was expecting bigger things.

It got bigger things, but they weren't American. The Russians uncorked their greatest shocker over the weekend by sending into space in separate capsules two men who just kept on going around the earth so many times they could have reached the moon and beyond.

It was almost as if the Russians were singing a song: "Anything You Can Do, We Can Do Better."

And Americans, no longer angrily frustrated, had to get used to the song for Kennedy said: "We are behind and will be for a period in the future."

Lay Recruits For Evangelism Being Urged

PARIS (AP) — Protestant churchmen were urged today to recruit laymen to back up their campaign of evangelism throughout the world.

A report to the central committee of the World Council of Churches, which is meeting here, said the restriction of the ministry to full-time paid workers is hampering the growth of Christianity.

The council's Division of World Mission and Evangelism said that in modern society and in areas where the church must move swiftly, new forms of ministry are needed.

The council groups 201 churches in more than 80 countries.

The recommendation that laymen be recruited for Protestant Church work parallels similar suggestions within the Roman Catholic Church which will be studied this fall in the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

In Amsterdam, the International Council of Christian Churches, a smaller Protestant group, opened its fifth congress today with a series of broadsides against the World Council of Churches for advocating a worldwide Christian movement.

Members of the group were roused by the World Council admitting churches behind the Iron Curtain as members.

MRS. RICHARD A. DEAN

Miss Gifford, Mr. Dean Are United in Marriage

Miss Peggy Ann Gifford became the bride of Mr. Richard A. Dean at 10:30 a. m. July 20 in St. Joseph's Church.

Miss Gifford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Gifford, Route 1. Mr. Dean is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean, Route 4.

The Very Rev. Monsignor George Mason performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, white pompons and huckleberry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta designed with a Sabrina neckline, three quarter length sleeves and a fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt was accented in the back with tiers of white nylon tulle ruffles. A crown of iridescent held her waist length veil of net, and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and pink carnations centered with a lavender and white orchid with pink streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom and she carried a white lace handkerchief given to her by her great-grandmother.

Miss Sandra Gifford, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of powder blue nylon over taffeta featuring a very bouffant skirt and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with pink and white streamers. Her matching pearl necklace and earrings were a gift from the bride.

Mr. Eugene Dean, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Mr. James Dean, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Edward Gifford, brother of the bride, were ushers.

ford, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Gifford chose for her daughter's wedding a beige embroidered sheath dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Dean, the bridegroom's mother, wore a beige dress with white accessories and they both wore corsages of tangerine cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake. White daisies, white pompons, baby's breath, snapdragons and huckleberry completed the decorations.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Gene Stonerock, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Edwin Dean, aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. Harry Wright and Mrs. Robert Valentine.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Dean wore a mint green dress with a white lace jacket and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Logan Elm High School and was previously employed at the Curtis Hix Real Estate office.

Mr. Dean is a 1962 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed at the Circleville Metal Works.

The couple will reside in Stoutsville.

Dear Abby:

In Protest!

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote in to your column saying that her daughter "frizzed her hair out until she looked like a Fiji Islander." Pardon me, but I am a Fiji Islander and my hair is NOT "frizzed out."

It grieves me that most otherwise fairly intelligent people are so ignorant of our culture. The majority of Fiji Islanders are Christians and can read and write. We are not primitive savages as many believe, but are more civilized in many respects than some Americans, Europeans, Canadians and South Americans. Respectfully yours,

VITU LEVU

DEAR ABBY: A man who works where I work has been after me for some time. I refused to go out with him because I have heard he is married and I don't want to get involved with a married man. He said he has a "legal separation" which automatically becomes a divorce after a certain length of time. Is this true? Is there any future in my dating this man?

DECENT: A legal separation never "automatically" becomes a divorce. If you are eligible for marriage, don't waste your time with a man who isn't.

DEAR ABBY: Every girl I date cries on my shoulder and tells me about her fouled-up love life. I'd like a girl to be interested in me for myself, not as a "friend" who can give her tips on how to get another guy. I am not bad looking, no drinker, a steady worker and 30 years old already. I want to get married. So what do I do now?

Farm Roundup

Cooking Oil Factions Wage Rising Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new fight, rivaling that waged for years between butter and margarine, is developing between animal fats and vegetable oils. The outcome could have significant effects on farm production patterns.

At the center of this rising conflict is the question of whether the animal or vegetable fats have a relation to levels of cholesterol in the blood—a substance suspected by some medical authorities of having an influence on the hardening of the arteries associated with heart troubles.

Producers of animal fats—particularly dairy fats consumed in the form of butter and cream as well as in whole milk and other dairy products—are protesting claims of distributors of some vegetable oils that the latter products are more healthful than the animal fats.

The latest flareup between the two classes of food fats was touched off by a statement of the American Medical Association, offering guidance to physicians for experimenting with fats in diets of patients with heart and associated diseases. The statement has been interpreted by some as an endorsement of vegetable fats over animal fats.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last year's tobacco crop put a record $1.3 billion into pockets of growers, the Agriculture Department reported today. This topped the previous record, set in 1955, by $95 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor costs for marketing domestic farm foods to civilian consumers reached a record high of $18.9 billion last year. This was $500 million more than in 1960.

The labor bill last year was nearly 50 per cent higher than 10 years earlier.

Reporting this, the Agriculture Department said the amount paid labor was only $1.9 billion less than the amount farmers received for the food products and raw materials they sold last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service had found in a survey that less than one-third of the nation's farm youth are attending college. This compares with about half the youths in urban areas.

Stag Party

WICHITA (AP) — A newspaper carrier, Stanley W. Brown, 17, and his dog, Midnight, were startled by a crash and tinkling glass as they made their rounds early one morning.

Brown stared at the broken window of the office of Charles F. Curry Co., and could see a young stag deer bounding around inside, jumping upon and over desks and chairs.

Stanley ran to call police. Midnight ran home.

Several attempts to capture the deer were unsuccessful. Finally it leaped out the window and hasn't been seen since.

The Lowell Observatory of Flagstaff, Ariz., and the National Geographic Society have teamed to produce an atlas of the nearby bright planets from Mercury to Saturn.

Ohio Congressman Likes Hi-Jinks, Takes Ride on Caroline's Tricycle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congressman calls at the White House and takes a ride on Caroline Kennedy's new tricycle.

Surprising? Not if the congressman is William H. Ayres, R-Ohio. This ex-plumber from Akron is one of the most unusual of the 437 characters in the House of Representatives.

Ayres tricycle ride exhibited just one side of his successful political formula of showmanship and service that sent him to Congress from a district where only Democrats had preceded him for nearly 30 years.

Sometimes brash, usually interesting, the 46-year-old congressman can teach a lot to politicians and would-be politicians. He just naturally attracts attention, and he's getting more than usual these days from members jittery about their chances for re-election.

"I just apply business promotion to politics—in other words, my goal is a satisfied customer," Ayres explains.

The "customers," Democrats two to one, have been letting Republican Ayres mind the store for them in Washington for 12 years of service.

Ayres said he learned from his father, a Methodist minister: "When you help people they don't forget it. When I help a Democrat, he doesn't look on me as a Republican."

The Ayres' formula drew little but derisive laughter when he deserted his plumbing and heating business in 1950 to run for his first term because he was irked at what he considered too strict government regulation of small business.

When they found out he had never even voted in a Republican primary, "they said I was a dead duck."

Professional politicians laughed even harder, he said, at such amateur campaign tricks as inviting voters to hurl darts at balloons labeled, "knock the air out of Ayres."

And "they shuddered," he added, at political advertisements showing a snapshot of him as a tot in a long dress with this appeal to voters:

"At age one, Bill Ayres' mother helped him across the Ohio River . . . at age 34, Bill Ayres needs your help if you want him across the Potomac."

Actually, the old snapshot turned out to be one of his sister. "I didn't find it out until after the campaign," he said with a grin.

Whatever professionals think of Ayres now, the laughter is mingled with respect.

Republicans who once "apologized for throwing me to the wolves" frequently seek to emulate his successful tactics, and Democrats still try to figure out a way to deflate the Ayres political balloon.

His publicity antics have ranged from the White House tricycle ride to the twist in a Washington ballroom. He even persuaded a famous seed company to name a variety of marigold after his wife, Mary Helen.

Ayres says his office was flooded with applications to his "sons of Business Society," which he originated as a gag to capitalize on President Kennedy's S.O.B. punctuated run-in with the steel industry. Proceeds from the 25-cent "memberships" will go to orphanages. (A Harvard scholarship was originally planned, but the university turned down the money.)

The tricycle incident came about when Ayres decided to present an Akron-made trike for Caroline to illustrate "why nothing happens in the economy of this country until somebody sells something."

Ayres said the Kennedys thanked him politely at the White House presentation ceremony, but little Caroline did not appear.

"What are you going to do with it?" newsmen asked.

"If Caroline doesn't show I'll ride on it myself," he replied—and did.

If he likes the limelight, he also does his homework on the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

tee, of which he is the ranking Republican. If the GOP takes control of the House this year, he will be chairman.

Mental Alarm Clock Possible

Q. I have two friends who can just "set their mind" to get up at a certain time. Is it possible that they have some kind of built-in alarm clock?

A. Normal adults have a waking-sleeping cycle that measures time in units of 24 hours. A number of cues are associated with various times of the day and the sleeping-waking cycle. One cue associated with the sleep pattern is body temperature. It is possible that in going to sleep a person might "set" the number of hours he would like to sleep, and when a certain change in temperature occurs, would awaken. The desire to get up at a certain time might also produce a condition of anxiety which would attune him to an internal cue, such as temperature change.

Sodium Fluoride Tablets
Q. I have been taking sodium fluoride tablets to prevent tooth decay. Should I continue taking them now that I am pregnant?

A. It would be best to check with your physician. So far as we know, there would be no harm in continuing.

Warts

Q. Please give me some information on warts. I have about 15 on my neck. What causes them?

A. To most people any sort of skin tag or elevated growth is a wart. Warts are harmless (some may be caused by a virus) whereas certain other growths can be serious. Under the circumstances, let your physician decide what to do. Of one thing you can be certain—it's the height of folly to use "do-it-yourself" wart cures. It is our purpose to render professional prescription service and to offer the finest quality health aids and sickroom supplies.

Focus on Health Smoking, Low IQ Tied Together In Pupil Survey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoking and I.Q., emotional problems in girls and boys, and cancer in children are medical topics this week.

High School Smoking

Non-smoking high school students had higher I.Q.'s and attained higher academic achievement than students who smoked, a survey covering 6,810 students in Newton, Mass., high schools indicates.

Drs. Eva J. Salber and Brian MacMahon and Miss Barbara Welsh of the Harvard University School of Public Health, who made the survey, said they also found that I.Q.'s were lower for heavy smokers than for light smokers.

In a report in Pediatrics, the journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the researchers said the relationship between smoking and academic achievement is complex.

They did not conclude whether smoking results from low academic achievement, or that low achievement results from smoking or that both are caused by a third circumstance.

They offered this theory: Pupils with superior grades are in good standing with their teachers and parents and are envied by their classmates. It may be that children who can't make good grades "find in taking up smoking a way of demonstrating their maturity and achieving acceptance in (different) group."

Emotional problems

Boys between the ages of 9 and 12 have twice as many emotional problems as girls of that age, but in later years adolescent girls show more emotional disturbances than adolescent boys, a New York child psychiatrist says.

Dr. Stella Chess of Flower Fifth Avenue Hospital theorized that boys tend to show their resistance to strong parental pressures at an early age while girls generally repress their defiance until their teens. Then their hostility may take the form of chasing after boys. This alarms the parents who apply greater pressure leading to even more defiance and emotional imbalance.

Cancer Increase

Although the incidence of cancer rises with age, it is increasing faster in children than in adults.

Dr. C. C. Dauer, medical advisor of the National Center for Health Statistics of the U.S. Public Health Service, said the mortality rate for cancer among children 1 to 4 years of age has more than doubled since 1930 and has tripled in children 5 to 14 years old.

Writing in Patterns of Disease, a monthly Park, Davis & Co. publication for physicians, he said: "This is a much greater percentage increase than has been observed in adults."

He added, however, that it has not been determined how much of the increase is real and how much only apparent, stemming from greater diagnostic precision.

Strangling of Ex-Ohioan Is Blamed on Man, 21

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A coroner's jury has formally accused Bernard Gene Lyons, 21, of strangling Cornelia Dillon, a 72-year-old arthritic who used crutches.

She was a retired school teacher who had taught in Akron, Ohio, and Tucson, Ariz.

Lyons was arrested five hours after the body was discovered Friday. He was driving Miss Dillon's car. He had been charged with first-degree murder and auto theft.

Newest Coed At USC Is Swoosie, 17

LOS ANGELES (AP) — She's pretty, blonde, blue-eyed, and her name is Swoosie.

Swoosie?

Honest—she's enrolled that way as a freshman at the University of Southern California. She is Swoosie Kurtz, 17, daughter of World War II hero Col. Frank Kurtz, and she is named for another hero — "The Swoosie."

Here's the story, as Col. Kurtz explained it when he and his wife registered Swoosie for USC:

He was at Clark Field, near Manila, when the Japanese attack of Dec. 8, 1941, smashed nearly all the U.S. planes in the Philippines. One B17 bomber, put together from salvaged parts, was named "Swoosie" for the Walt Disney creature, half-swan, half-goose.

She became one of World War II's most famous planes in actions against the Japanese and is now in the Smithsonian Institution. When Kurtz returned to this country at war's end a daughter was born at Omaha, Neb., and newsmen suggested he name her "Swoosie."

A nurse, amused at the idea, wrote "Swoosie" on the hospital records—and the parents decided to let the name become official.

Kurtz is now retired from the Air Force and is vice president of a Los Angeles industrial firm.

Second Hovercraft Joins Ferry Service

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Britain's second ferry service by Hovercraft—a flying boat that supports itself on a cushion of air—has opened between this south England port and the Isle of Wight.

The fare is 10 shillings—$1.40—for the 10-minute, 5-mile crossing which is three times as expensive as the ordinary ferry, but the service is three times as fast.

The first Hovercraft ferry began operations in Wales last month.

Ann was invited to play after participating in preseason workouts. The teams drew straws for her.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's some benefit from running second if you run long enough. You get used to being disappointed. Americans are getting used to being beaten by the Russians in space.

This explains why the American reaction to the latest Soviet achievement—two men in orbit at once—is far more restrained than it was, say, in 1957 when the Russians first moved out in front.

That year they startled the world by putting the first satellite, their Sputnik, in orbit. Several senators demanded an investigation at once. One called it a devastating blow to American prestige.

But a Wisconsin Republican, Sen. Alexander Wiley, seemed to sum up the national feeling best. He said: "Facts are facts. Someone has goofed."

A second shock came a month later when the Russians put a dog in orbit. Animal lovers protested. Future historians, though, may be puzzled why no one protested later when men were put in orbit.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles acknowledged the Russians were ahead. President Eisenhower sought to soothe the unhappy national mood. While acknowledging the Soviet achievement, he said: "Earth satellites, in themselves, have no direct present effect upon the nation's security."

This was cold comfort for a nation which liked to think it led the world in scientific accomplishments. After all, it was the United States which had invented the atomic bomb.

A Senate investigation was held. Several steps were taken to speed up space development. To some optimists it might have seemed only a matter of a short time before this country would sail out in front.

It didn't work out that way. The Russians still figured to be out in front for a long time for this reason: They had developed larger and more powerful rockets, able to carry bigger loads, than the United States.

American spirits got a big lift when on Jan. 31, 1958, this country put its first satellite, Explorer, aloft. But a Washington Democrat, Sen. Henry Jackson, warned it was no time to be smug or complacent.

It was a wise thought. A year later, Jan. 2, 1959, the Russians sent another satellite, Lunik I, past the moon and into orbit around the sun. Three months later the American ego was re-

Ohio General Fund Receipts Show Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's general revenue fund receipts were off nearly a half-million dollars last month with expenditures up more than $11 million over July of 1961, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported Tuesday.

The auditor's report said receipts were $55,053,407, a decline of $434,559 from the July 1961 general revenue fund receipts. At the same time, he said in the 216,220, an increase of $11,072,205 over the $41,144,014 spent out of the general revenue fund during July 1961.

Rhodes said total tax revenues received last month amounted to $30,325,789, a drop of $2,057,762 from the July 1961 figure. He said the declines included: Insurance, off $3,310,297, and the use tax receipts, off $445,899.

Off-setting in part this drop were increases in these fields: Horse racing, up $511,503; sales tax, up $313,343; cigarettes, up $250,915; inheritance, up $225,606; intangibles, up $211,001; corporations, up $142,465; beer, wine and malt, up $23,180; and liquor gallonage, up $20,423.

Goldwater OKs Jokes Pointed at Politicians

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater watched himself being lampooned by the Circus Saints and Sinners, then came out four-square for the practice of poking fun at politicians.

The actor portraying Goldwater said that he liked the White House very much. "Jackie Kennedy did it all over in 18th century style. That's right up my alley."

stored a bit when the United States put a satellite, Pioneer IV, into solar orbit.

It was short-lived satisfaction. On Sept. 14, 1959, the Russians hit the moon just as Premier Khrushchev arrived in this country to crow about it. And on April 12, 1961, they hit the jackpot.

They sent Maj. Yuri Gagarin—the first man in space—into one orbit around the earth. President Kennedy conceded at a news conference it would take this country some time to put heavy payloads into space.

Americans said things like "fantastic" and "amazing," there was a kind of general debate on how to improve the situation, and a Pennsylvania Republican, Rep. James G. Fulton, expressed the national mood best: "I'm darn well tired of coming in second."

Within the next three months this country put two men into a SUBORBITAL FLIGHT—Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Capt. Virgil I. Grissom—but their brief flights, although heartening, were no match for Gagarin's.

And, as if to prove it, on Aug. 6, 1961, the Russians showed their superiority in space by launching Maj. Gherman S. Titov on 17 trips around the earth.

This makes it easy to understand why Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., on Feb. 20, 1962, became a national hero when he went around the earth three times. He had restored the national ego.

Since Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter last May 24 merely duplicated Glenn's three orbits, it is easy to understand why he did not get quite the same reaction as Glenn. By then America was expecting bigger things.

It got bigger things, but they weren't American. The Russians uncorked their greatest shocker over the weekend by sending into space in separate capsules two men who just kept on going around the earth so many times they could have reached the moon and beyond.

It was almost as if the Russians were singing a song: "Anything You Can Do, We Can Do Better."

And Americans, no longer angrily frustrated, had to get used to the song for Kennedy said: "We are behind and will be for a period in the future."

Lay Recruits For Evangelism Being Urged

PARIS (AP) — Protestant churchmen were urged today to recruit laymen to back up their campaign of evangelism throughout the world.

A report to the central committee of the World Council of Churches, which is meeting here, said the restriction of the ministry to full-time paid workers is hampering the growth of Christianity.

The council's Division of World Mission and Evangelism said that in modern society and in areas where the church must move swiftly, new forms of ministry are needed.

The council groups 201 churches in more than 80 countries.

The recommendation that laymen be recruited for Protestant Church work parallels similar suggestions within the Roman Catholic Church which will be studied this fall in the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

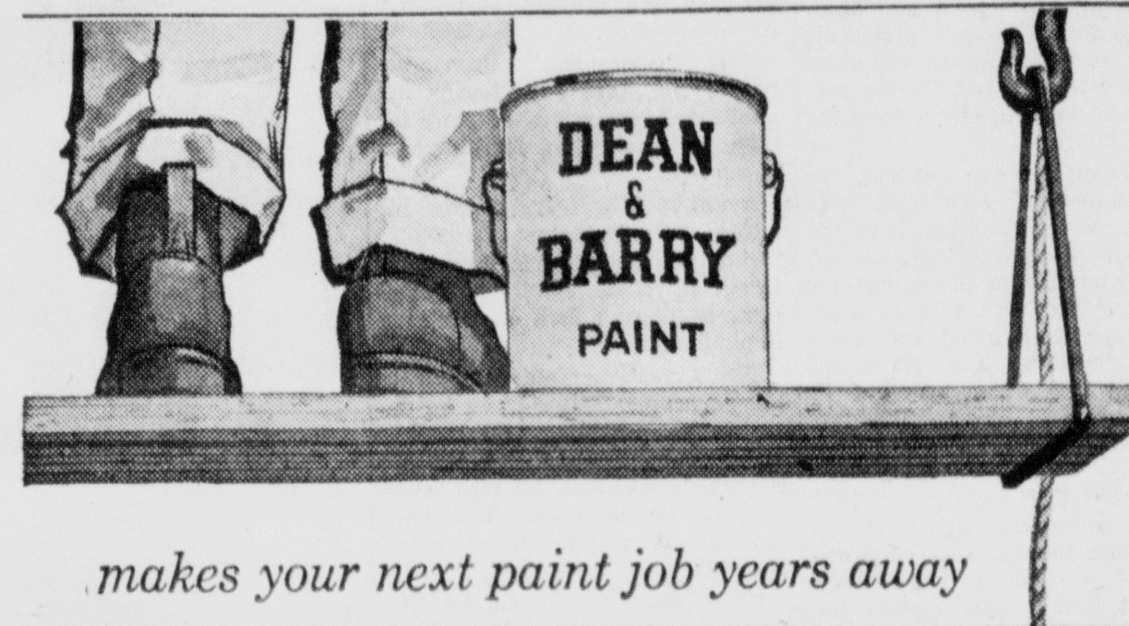

In Amsterdam, the International Council of Christian Churches, a smaller Protestant group, opened its fifth congress today with a series of broadsides against the World Council of Churches for advocating a worldwide Christian movement.

Clint Walker Glad Cheyenne Of TV Is Dying

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clint Walker has a dream. "It's what I want to do on my last day at Warner Brothers," he says. "I'd like to go out on the back lot and dig a hole, about six feet long and three feet wide. I'd lay this outfit in it, hat, gun and all. Then I'd cover it over and put a sign above it. "Here lies Cheyenne Bodie. Let him lie in peace."

As is well known, Clint is the outsized Illinois boy who has been starring in "Cheyenne" on television for seven years. As is equally well known, he has been unhappy about doing it all along. Clint's independence equals his frame. He has never fitted into the studio scheme of things, and his tirades against his bosses have been frequent and well punctuated. They are just about at an end.

"I have only five more 'Cheyennes' to shoot and then I'm through," he explained. "That will make 13 for next season, all that I'm obligated for. It can't be over too soon for me."

How will Clint bow out of "Cheyenne"? He has his own ideas about that.

"I think he ought to be stripped of his gun and star, lose his horse, be thrown over by the girl and run out of town on a rail for being a lousy sheriff," said Clint, dreaming again.

X15 Rockets Mile-a-Second In Stern Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—X15 pilot Joseph A. Walker streaked into space and back at mile-a-second speeds Tuesday, hunting a safe way for moon ships to re-enter the earth's atmosphere.

Walker rocketed to about 200,000 feet, slowed momentarily at the top of his climb, then plummeted at a speed estimated at more than 3,600 miles an hour.

His mission was to find a solution to a critical hazard Air Force Maj. Robert M. White encountered on his record-setting flight to 314,750 feet July 17.

Space agency officials said White had trouble with an instrument which indicated his angle of attack—the altitude of the plane in relation to its flight path. The instrument is activated by air pressure and here are only stray molecules of air at that altitude.

Walker landed here after a nine-minute flight from the point 218 miles northeast where the X15 was launched from beneath the wing of a B52 carrier plane.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The money class has taken quite a beating on television.

Tycoons are usually depicted as choleric bullies surrounded by cowering secretaries. Matrons are usually shown as affected snobs, worried that their children will marry socially unacceptable folks from the wrong side of the tracks.

The scion of wealth in the usual television portrait is a weak-chinned fellow, given to strong drink, fast cars and slow horses. The girls are usually beautiful debutantes hooked by gambling but unable to make good the IOU's held by the wicked vice

Ohio GI Tied To Robbery In France

BLOIS, France (AP) — French police held four American soldiers attached to the U.S. Army base at Orleans today on charges of robbing a hotel and a cafe near here.

The police seized the men, one an Ohioan, Monday night when they tried to run a highway roadblock at Lamotte - Beuvron, a small town between Vierzon and Orleans. Police fired at the wheels of the Americans' car, blowing some of its tires.

Police and the Orleans base identified the men as Spec. 5 Jesse M. Baumgardner, 25, of Hamilton, Ohio; Pfc. James R. Greer, 23, of Dallas, Tex.; Spec. 4 Donald H. Maxwell, 23, of Ardsley, N.Y. and Spec. 4 Richard E. Barrows, 21, of Cumberland, Wis.

French police said the four took an unspecified amount of money from a cafe at Vierzon Monday and then between 300 and 400 francs ($60 to $80) from the cash register of a hotel at Nouans-Le Fousier.

Charges against the four were filed with the District Court at Blois.

The Well-Known Face

MEMPHIS (AP) — A political candidate with headquarters in a hotel found himself short of cash. So, standing beneath the huge photographs that display his likeness all over the lobby, he asked a clerk if he could cash a check.

"Why yes," said the clerk, examining his signature. "Do you have any identification?"

overlord whose front is a nightclub.

They live unhappily in enormous houses furnished in the height of bad taste and are rude to the liveried servants.

For many television years, just about the only nice millionaire was John Beresford Tipton, a whimsical fellow who every week gave away a million dollars to some deserving poor person—but we never saw more than John Beresford's hand or the top of his head.

About three years ago along came a precedent-shattering series, "Bonanza." The central characters — father and three sons — were rich but honest. They owned a huge spread called the Ponderosa, but neglected the ranch most of the time in order to rescue maidens in distress and capture blackguards. It was —and is— a hit.

This coming season we'll be treated to a contemporary series featuring lovable, honorable and philanthropic millionaires. It is NBC's "Empire," and — another big switch—the head of the family is a woman.

"Empire," an hour-long epic of the new West — the old West is downright unfashionable this year — is being shot on location in and around Santa Fe.

Commissioners Put Stress on Home Rule

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Resolutions were to be submitted at the annual meeting today of the County Commissioners Association of Ohio, several of them in keeping with the convention's "keep government at home" theme.

The association's Metropolitan Area Committee was set to introduce to the delegates a resolution advocating county option in providing five-tenths of a mill of the county real estate tax duplicate to go to the Soldiers Relief Commission. The resolution would have the word "may" replace "shall" in the state statute on the subject.

Other resolutions to be introduced call for:

Return to local governments 75 per cent of capital gains taxes levied on real property.

Establish uniform traffic laws and signs in all states.

Ohio Nuclear Reactor Given Full Power OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has granted permission for the Plum Brook nuclear reactor three miles southeast of Sandusky, Ohio, to be operated at full power.

AEC examiner J. D. Bond approved the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's application to operate the reactor at up to its maximum level of 69,000 kilowatts, subject to several carefully prescribed conditions. A 100-kilowatt limit has been in effect pending determination of the safety of the power step-up.

The AEC told its licensing and regulation division to make sure construction of the plant had been completed in conformity with NASA's permit before amending the space agency's license to permit full power operation. Bond also said his order is subject to review within 45 days by the AEC.

Another condition is that NASA must work up gradually to maximum power so the reactor can be checked at various levels of operation. The space agency plans to use the reactor for heat and radiation experiments in connection with the U.S. space program.

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — "Free Picnic Table," read the road sign beside U. S. 29 near here.

Somebody took it literally. Gaston County Rural Police reported, and hauled off the table during the night.

Lost Ring Returned

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While digging in the garden, a housewife turned up a gold ring with the date 1915 and the initials "S.S." engraved on it.

She checked a high school annual for that year and found the name of Sam Sights.

A call to his widow disclosed that it was Sights' ring, which his widow lost while playing in the snow in 1920.

Focus on Health Smoking, Low IQ Tied Together In Pupil Survey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Smoking and I.Q., emotional problems in girls and boys, and cancer in children are medical topics this week.

High School Smoking
Non-smoking high school students had higher I.Q.'s and attained higher academic achievement than students who smoked, a survey covering 6,810 students in Newton, Mass., high schools indicates.

Drs. Eva J. Salber and Brian MacMahon and Miss Barbara Welsh of the Harvard University School of Public Health, who made the survey, said they also found that I.Q.'s were lower for heavy smokers than for light smokers.

In a report in Pediatrics, the journal of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the researchers said the relationship between smoking and academic achievement is complex.

They did not conclude whether smoking results from low academic achievement, or that low achievement results from smoking or that both are caused by a third circumstance.

They offered this theory:
Pupils with superior grades are in good standing with their teachers and parents and are envied by their classmates. It may be that children who can't make good grades "find in taking up smoking a way of demonstrating their maturity and achieving acceptance in (different) group."

Emotional problems
Boys between the ages of 9 and 12 have twice as many emotional problems as girls of that age, but in later years adolescent girls show more emotional disturbances than adolescent boys, a New York child psychiatrist says.

Dr. Stella Chess of Flower-Fifth Avenue Hospital theorized that boys tend to show their resistance to strong parental pressures at an early age while girls generally repress their defiance until their teens. Then their hostility may take the form of chasing after boys. This alarms the parents who apply greater pressure leading to even more defiance and emotional imbalance.

Cancer Increase
Although the incidence of cancer rises with age, it is increasing faster in children than in adults. Dr. C. C. Dauer, medical advisor of the National Center for Health Statistics of the U.S. Public Health Service, said the mortality rate for cancer among children 1 to 4 years of age has more than doubled since 1930 and has tripled in children 5 to 14 years old.

Writing in Patterns of Disease, a monthly Park, Davis & Co., publication for physicians, he said: "This is a much greater percentage increase than has been observed in adults."

He added, however, that it has not been determined how much of the increase is real and how much only apparent, stemming from greater diagnostic precision.

Strangling of Ex-Ohioan Is Blamed on Man, 21

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A coroner's jury has formally accused Bernard Gene Lyons, 21, of strangling Cornelia Dillon, a 72-year-old arthritic who used crutches.

She was a retired school teacher who had taught in Akron, Ohio, and Tucson, Ariz.

Lyons was arrested five hours after the body was discovered Friday. He was driving Miss Dillon's car. He had been charged with first-degree murder and auto theft.

Newest Coed At USC Is Swoosie, 17

Swoosie?
Honest—she's enrolled that way as a freshman at the University of Southern California. She is Swoosie Kurtz, 17, daughter of World War II hero Col. Frank Kurtz, and she is named for another hero —or heroine — "The Swoosie."

Here's the story, as Col. Kurtz explained it when he and his wife registered Swoosie for USC:

He was at Clark Field, near Manila, when the Japanese attack of Dec. 8, 1941, smashed nearly all the U.S. planes in the Philippines. One B17 bomber, put together from salvaged parts, was named "Swoosie" for the Walt Disney creature, half-swan, half-goose.

She became one of World War II's most famous planes in actions against the Japanese and is now in the Smithsonian Institution. When Kurtz returned to this country at war's end a daughter was born at Omaha, Neb., and newsmen suggested he name her "Swoosie."

A nurse, amused at the idea, wrote "Swoosie" on the hospital records—and the parents decided to let the name become official.

Second Hovercraft Joins Ferry Service

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Britain's second ferry service by Hovercraft—a flying boat that supports itself on a cushion of air—has opened between this south England port and the Isle of Wight.

The fare is 10 shillings—$1.40—for the 10-minute, 5-mile crossing which is three times as expensive as the ordinary ferry, but the service is three times as fast.

The first Hovercraft ferry began operations in Wales last month.

SPACEMAN'S MOTHER—Anna Alexeevna (above), mother of Soviet cosmonaut Andrian Grigoryevich Nikolayev, told a Soviet newsmen that her son was "in no hurry to get married and spent all his free time busying himself with his favorite profession." Booster Club Set For Member Drive

Officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club last night outlined plans for an extensive membership drive which will be conducted the next few days.

An outline for the coming campaign was drawn during a picnic outing yesterday at the Pickaway Country Club. Assignments were prepared and handed out by President John Jenkins, Vice President Bob Chapman and Secretary Jim Diltz.

Directors will handle the commercial and industrial phase of the drive. All Circleville High School students interested in sports will assume the task of conducting a residential canvass.

President Jenkins announced that several business and industrial firms already have been added to the Booster Club roster. More will be contacted in the next few days.

CHS STUDENTS, especially those participating in sports, will meet 2 p. m. Saturday at Benny's Restaurant to launch their house-to-house effort. They will work under the direction of coaches and Booster officials.

The membership drive is an annual event for the Booster Club, an organization devoted to the betterment of athletics at Circleville High School.

Proceeds from this year's drive will be used to purchase equipment and other essentials for the various Tiger teams. The club also sponsors yearly sports banquets.

Current study by the club has centered on the future purchase of a whirlpool bath. This equipment would be made available to all CHS teams.

Another Booster project near at hand will be a fish fry, currently set for Sept. 14 when the Bulldogs of Athens come here for what is anticipated to be a top notch football game.

The fish fry project was initiated here last year prior to the Washington C. H. game. Its success prompted the Booster Club to make it an annual event.

4-H Rodeo Slated At Chillicothe

The Hobby Horse 4-H Club of Chillicothe will present a rodeo Sunday at the Mount Logan Riding Stable east of Chillicothe.

All participants in the show will be 4-H club members. The event will begin at 8 a. m.

Don Strausbaugh will judge and Al Helgemoire and Dave Herrstein will be the timers. The announcer will be Curly Wilson.

Second String Reds' Hurlers Not Enough

CINCINNATI (AP) — The evidence is piling up that the Cincinnati Reds can't get much pitching help from the lesser lights of their staff, like Johnny Klippstein, as starters.

The Reds' three front-line hurlers needed the rest Tuesday night, and Klipp got the nod against Milwaukee.

Result: The Braves won 5-4 and broke a Redleg win streak at nine games.

When he joined the club, Klipp was supposed to work in relief. To everyone's surprise, including the Reds, he's taken starting roles because the team turned out to have only Bob Purkey, Joey Jay and Jim O'Toole as reliable starters.

Tony Cloninger allowed seven hits and retired 15 Reds in a row between the third and eighth innings Tuesday night. He was removed with two out in the ninth.

Meanwhile, Hank Aaron came through with a single, a double and his 31st homer for Milwaukee. Brother Tom Aaron got his fifth homer.

The Reds had their chances only in the second and ninth innings. With two out and the tying run on second in the ninth, Claude Raymond relieved Cloninger and struck out John Edwards to seal the decision.

Purkey was slated for pitching duty tonight, opposing Milwaukee's Jack Curtis.

50 Candidates Take Exams at Teays Valley

Varsity, Reserve, Freshmen Schedules For '62 Announced

Marion Waites, grid coach of the new Teays Valley High School, announced that 50 candidates reported for football physicals Tuesday.

Candidates who missed physicals at the Ashville School must make their own arrangements for exams before Friday, the official opening of practice.

Equipment was issued to the Teays Valley candidates at 9 a. m. today and at 7:30 p. m.

FOLLOWING a Thursday orientation session scheduled at 7:30 p. m., boys who wish will be fitted with mouth protectors.

Waites said this will definitely be a building year for the new school. Of the three school districts from which Teays Valley was formed, Ashville and Scioto Schools previously fielded football teams.

Teays Valley will play in the Darby Valley League. Other schools in the league are Triad Local, Madison South, Cedarville, West Jefferson, the Plains, Greenview and Jonathan Alder.

Waites has scheduled three scrimmage sessions with other schools. On Aug. 25 they go to Hamilton Twp. for the first practice tilt. Then they host St. Charles on Aug. 29 and Groveport on September 1.

The schedule for the varsity is:

Sept. 7	Amanda-Clearcreek
Sept. 14	at Walnut Ridge
Sept. 21	at Triad Local
Sept. 28	Madison South
Oct. 5	at Cedarville
Oct. 12	W. Jefferson
Oct. 19	at the Plains
Oct. 26	Greenview

Brewer Is Named Browns Slot End

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — John Brewer, who gave a solid performance against the Detroit Lions last week, is slated to be at the slot end on offense again when the Cleveland Browns meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night.

The Lions and the Dallas Cowboys will meet in the opener of the twin bill, the first in the history of professional football.

Brewer, a Mississippian who switched from defensive end to the offense this season, was the Browns' leading receiver against Detroit with five catches for 68 yards.

The Katmai National Monument in Alaska is twice the size of the state of Delaware.

The Detroit Tigers played 33 games at Tiger Stadium without going into extra innings. Then, on June 24, they played a 22-inning game with New York that consumed seven hours, an all-time major league record.

Clint Walker Glad Cheyenne Of TV Is Dying

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clint Walker has a dream.

"It's what I want to do on my last day at Warner Brothers," he says. "I'd like to go out on the back lot and dig a hole, about six feet long and three feet wide. I'd lay this outfit in it, hat, gun and all. Then I'd cover it over and put a sign above it.

"Here lies Cheyenne Bodie. Let him lie in peace."

As is well known, Clint is the outsized Illinois boy who has been starring in "Cheyenne" on television for seven years. As is equally well known, he has been unhappy about doing it all along.

Clint's independence equals his frame. He has never fitted into the studio scheme of things, and his tirades against his bosses have been frequent and well punctuated. They are just about at an end.

"I have only five more 'Cheyennes' to shoot and then I'm through," he explained. "That will make 13 for next season, all that I'm obligated for. It can't be over too soon for me."

How will Clint bow out of "Cheyenne"? He has his own ideas about that.

"I think he ought to be stripped of his gun and star, lose his horse, be thrown over by the girl and run out of town on a rail for being a lousy sheriff," said Clint, dreaming again.

X15 Rockets Mile-a-Second In Stern Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—X15 pilot Joseph A. Walker streaked into space and back at mile-a-second speeds Tuesday, hunting a safe way for moon ships to re-enter the earth's atmosphere.

Walker rocketed to about 200,000 feet, slowed momentarily at the top of his climb, then plummeted at a speed estimated at more than 3,600 miles an hour.

His mission was to find a solution to a critical hazard Air Force Maj. Robert M. White encountered on his record-setting flight to 314,750 feet July 17.

Space agency officials said White had trouble with an instrument which indicated his angle of attack—the altitude of the plane in relation to its flight path. The instrument is actuated by air pressure and here are only stray molecules of air at that altitude.

White had to be pointed right when he plunged back into the atmosphere or his plane might start tumbling and be destroyed by air friction.

Walker landed here after a nine-minute flight from the point 218 miles northeast where the X15 was launched from beneath the wing of a B52 carrier plane.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The money class has taken quite a beating on television.

Tycoons are usually depicted as choleric bullies surrounded by cowering secretaries. Matrons are usually shown as affected snobs, worried that their children will marry socially unacceptable folks from the wrong side of the tracks.

The scion of wealth in the usual television portrait is a weak-chinned fellow, given to strong drink, fast cars and slow horses. The girls are usually beautiful debutantes hooked by gambling but unable to make good the IOU's held by the wicked vice overlord whose front is a night-club.

They live unhappily in enormous houses furnished in the height of bad taste and are rude to the liveried servants.

For many television years, just about the only nice millionaire was John Beresford Tipton, a whimsical fellow who every week gave away a million dollars to some deserving poor person—but we never saw more than John Beresford's hand or the top of his head.

About three years ago along came a precedent-shattering series, "Bonanza." The central characters — father and three sons — were rich but honest. They owned a huge spread called the Ponderosa, but neglected the ranch most of the time in order to rescue maidens in distress and capture blackguards. It was — and is — a hit.

This coming season we'll be treated to a contemporary series featuring lovable, honorable and philanthropic millionaires. It is NBC's "Empire," and — another big switch — the head of the family is a woman.

"Empire," an hour-long epic of the new West — the old West is downright unfashionable this year — is being shot on location in and around Santa Fe.

Ohio GI Tied To Robbery In France

BLOIS, France (AP) — French police held four American soldiers attached to the U.S. Army base at Orleans today on charges of robbing a hotel and a cafe near here.

The police seized the men, one an Ohioan, Monday night when they tried to run a highway roadblock at Lamotte - Beuvron, a small town between Vierzon and Orleans. Police fired at the wheels of the Americans' car, blowing some of its tires.

Police and the Orleans base identified the men as Spec. 5 Jesse M. Baumgardner, 25, of Hamilton, Ohio; Pfc. James R. Greer, 23, of Dallas, Tex.; Spec. 4 Donald H. Maxwell, 23, of Ardsley, N.Y. and Spec. 4 Richard E. Barrows, 21, of Cumberland, Wis.

French police said the four took an unspecified amount of money from a cafe at Vierzon Monday and then between 300 and 400 francs ($60 to $80) from the cash register of a hotel at Noyans-Le Fuesnier.

Charges against the four were filed with the District Court at Blois.

The Well-Known Face
MEMPHIS (AP) — A political candidate with headquarters in a hotel found himself short of cash. So, standing beneath the huge photographs that display his likeness all over the lobby, he asked a clerk if he could cash a check.

"Why yes," said the clerk, examining his signature. "Do you have any identification?"

Commissioners Put Stress on Home Rule

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Resolutions were to be submitted at the annual meeting today of the County Commissioners Association of Ohio, several of them in keeping with the convention's "keep government at home" theme.

The association's Metropolitan Area Committee was set to introduce to the delegates a resolution advocating county option in providing five-tenths of a mill of the county real estate tax duplicate to go to the Soldiers Relief Commission. The resolution would have the word "may" replace "shall" in the state statute on the subject.

Other resolutions to be introduced call for:

Return to local governments 75 per cent of capital gains taxes levied on real property.

Establish uniform traffic laws and signs in all states.

Ohio Nuclear Reactor Given Full Power OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has granted permission for the Plum Brook nuclear reactor three miles southeast of Sandusky, Ohio, to be operated at full power.

AEC examiner J. D. Bond approved the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's application to operate the reactor at up to its maximum level of 69,000 kilowatts, subject to several carefully prescribed conditions. A 100-kilowatt limit has been in effect pending determination of the safety of the power step-up.

The AEC told its licensing and regulation division to make sure construction of the plant had been completed in conformity with NASA's permit before amending the space agency's license to permit full power operation. Bond also said his order is subject to review within 45 days by the AEC.

Another condition is that NASA must work up gradually to maximum power so the reactor can be checked at various levels of operation. The space agency plans to use the reactor for heat and radiation experiments in connection with the U.S. space program.

Exit the Free Table

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — "Free Picnic Table," read the road sign beside U. S. 29 near here.

Somebody took it literally. Gaston County Rural Police reported, and hauled off the table during the night.

Lost Ring Returned

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — While digging in the garden, a housewife turned up a gold ring with the date 1915 and the initials "S.S." engraved on it.

She checked a high school annual for that year and found the name of Sam Sights.

Clevelanders Turn Down Levy Again

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's operating levy has gone down to its second stunning defeat this year and this time it promises to get tangled up in a hot mayoralty political campaign.

Voters rejected the 1.9-mill proposed tax increase in a special election Tuesday by a wide margin. Only 45,178 approved it, while 62,381 voted against. A simple majority was needed for passage.

Actually, the proposal drew only 42 per cent support, even less than the 45.6 per cent who favored it in May balloting.

The defeat was disheartening, said Acting Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who had campaigned hard for the levy's approval. He planned a policy meeting today with City Council leaders on the city's next step. Locher is a can-

Willard W. Brown, Republican candidate for mayor, issued a statement:

"The defeat of the Cleveland levy is noice to the present city administration that the voters of Cleveland are determined to reject an increase in their taxes.

"Our people want to pay for good government, but they do not want to pay more than good government should cost. . . . They are rebelling against the mounting costs of government. They want efficiency and economy in our city hall. . . ."

John T. Corrigan, the county prosecutor and a Democrat who has said he was "predisposed to run" for mayor, spoke of the need for greater economy and the elimination of waste.

The levy proposal would have added 1.9 mills in additional to renewing the current 4.2 mills.

"We'll consider whether to re-submit a levy in November and how much to ask for," Mayor Locher said. He said a city income tax also will be discussed in his meeting with Council leaders.

Carried around England

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —After 44 years, Larry A. Cassidy still hasn't succeeded in setting foot on English soil.

He spent five months there in World War I, all the time in five hospitals.

This year he sailed on a cruise for England, but 24 hours from that shore he was stricken and taken ashore in an ambulance.

Five days later Cassidy was returned to the boat by ambulance and sent home.

In NL Flag Chase Shoe Horn Needed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hand over that shoe horn Joe Cronin.

The race over here in the National League is developing into a good thing to avoid if you have sticky heart valves.

You may recall that a few weeks back American League President Cronin was calling his scrambled flag battle a "shoe horn race."

Not so long after that, the Los Angeles Dodgers were making motions toward a National League runway. The San Francisco Giants put a stop to that with a weekend sweep.

Tuesday Jack Sanford won his 10th straight and Willie Mays hit his 36th home run as the Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 9-2.

For the Dodgers, Maury Wills was caught stealing, and Tommy Davis struck out, hit into a force play and two double plays — and Los Angeles dropped a 2-1 decision to Pittsburgh.

As a result, the Giants were within 1½ games of the Dodgers, and the shoe was getting tighter. The flag hopes of the Cincinnati Reds, who are 6½ back in third, suffered a setback when they were beaten 5-4 by the Milwaukee Braves.

The St. Louis Cardinals, whose disgruntled boss August Busch threatened to trade almost every one, including the peanut vendors, dropped a 4-3 battle to Houston in 10 innings, when the winning run scored on an error.

The Philadelphia Phils and the New York Mets struggled for 15 innings before the Phils won 3-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees opened a 6-game budge by beating Minnesota 5-2, while the second-place Los Angeles Angels were losing twice to Boston, 2-1 and 9-5. The Detroit Tigers beat Baltimore twice, 13-10 and 5-4, Kansas City edged Washington 6-5, and the Chicago White Sox whipped Cleveland 9-0.

Sanford ran his record to 16-6 as he tamed the Cubs on eight hits. Ernie Banks drove in both Cub runs, one with his 30th homer.

Johnny Podres was foiled in a bid for his 100th career victory for the Dodgers, as his mates got at least one hit in every inning except the ninth but couldn't reach the plate.

The only Dodger run off Al McBean (12-8) came on Podres' first major league homer. The Pirates got one in the first inning on doubles by Bob Clemente and Donn Clendenon, and the clincher in the third when Bill Virdon singled and Dick Groat doubled him home.

The Braves snapped a Cincinnati winning streak at nine for the second time this season. Tommie Aaron broke a 3-3 tie with a homer in the sixth inning and Hank Aaron made it 5-3 with his 31st homer in the seventh. Reliever Claude Raymond squelched a Redleg uprising in the ninth.

The Cardinals messed up a double play ball in the 10th when Julian Javier threw into the dirt to Bill White, and Roman Mejias scored from second, just beating White's throw to the plate. Bob Gibson (14-9) went all the way for the loss. Don McMahon (3-3) got the win in relief.

Al Jackson went all 15 innings for the Mets, who ran their latest losing streak to five games. He limited the Phils to four singles through the first 14 innings, but in the 15th Tony Gonzales reached second on a two-base error. Bob Oltis blooped a single to right, Ruben Amaro was walked intentionally and Mel Roach hit a two-run single through the drawn-in infield. Jack Baldschun, third Phil hurler, got the win (7-7).

Toronto Beats Columbus Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The magic wand that Buffalo pitcher Babe Birrer used to throw the Richmond Virginians four times this season is in drastic need of repairs.

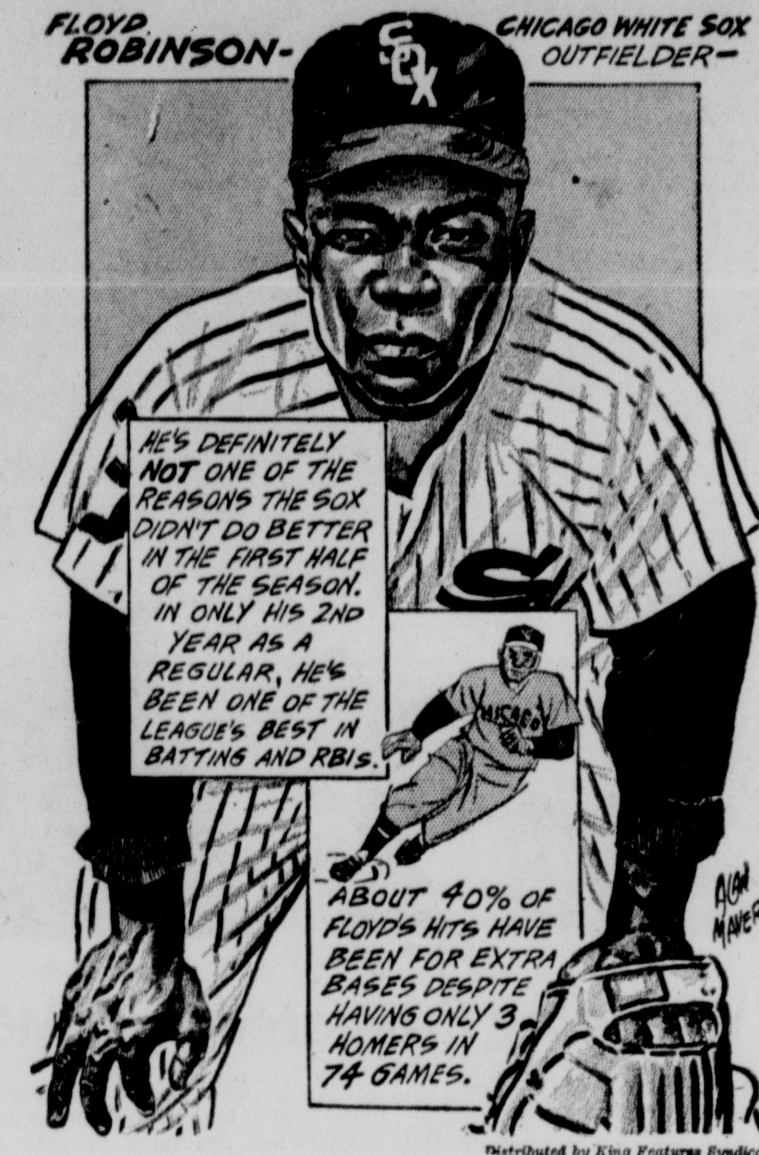

Tuesday night the Virginians beat Birrer for the second time in as many weeks 6-3. The Vees had spent the early part of the season rolling over the playing field every time the burly right-hander showed up on the mound.

In other action, Toronto downed the Columbus Jets 5-3, and Atlanta edged Rochester 7-6. The Jacksonville at Syracuse game was rained out.

The Leafs were outthit eight to five by the Jets, but Dennis Menke and Mack Jones each blasted a two-run homer. Carl Greene was the winner, but he needed help from Jim Constable in the ninth when the Jets' Tony Asaro nicked him for a two-run homer.

Booster Club Set For Member Drive

Officers and directors of the Circleville Booster Club last night outlined plans for an extensive membership drive which will be conducted the next few days.

An outline for the coming campaign was drawn during a picnic outing yesterday at the Pickaway Country Club. Assignments were prepared and handed out by President John Jenkins, Vice President Bob Chapman and Secretary Jim Diltz.

Directors will handle the commercial and industrial phase of the drive. All Circleville High School students interested in sports will assume the task of conducting a residential canvass.

President Jenkins announced that several business and industrial firms already have been added to the Booster Club roster. More will be contacted in the next few days.

CHS STUDENTS, especially those participating in sports, will meet 2 p. m. Saturday at Benny's Restaurant to launch their house-to-house effort. They will work under the direction of coaches and Booster officials.

The membership drive is an annual event for the Booster Club, an organization devoted to the betterment of athletics at Circleville High School.

Proceeds from this year's drive will be used to purchase equipment and other essentials for the various Tiger teams. The club also sponsors yearly sports banquets. Current study by the club has centered on the future purchase of a whirlpool bath. This equipment would be made available to all CHS teams.

Another Booster project near at hand will be a fish fry, currently set for Sept. 14 when the Bulldogs of Athens come here for what is anticipated to be a top notch football game.

The fish fry project was initiated here last year prior to the Washington C. H. game. Its success prompted the Booster Club to make it an annual event.

4-H Rodeo Slated At Chillicothe

The Hobby Horse 4-H Club of Chillicothe will present a rodeo Sunday at the Mount Logan Riding Stable east of Chillicothe.

All participants in the show will be 4-H club members. The event will begin at 8 a. m.

Don Strausbaugh will judge and Al Helgemeire and Dave Herrstein will be the timers. The announcer will be Curly Wilson.

George King's two-year record as basketball coach at West Virginia is 47 victories and 10 defeats.

Second String Reds' Hurlers Not Enough

CINCINNATI (AP) — The evidence is piling up that the Cincinnati Reds can't get much pitching help from the lesser lights of their staff, like Johnny Klippstein, as starters.

The Reds' three front-line hurlers needed the rest Tuesday night, and Klipp got the nod against Milwaukee.

Result: the Braves won 5-4 and broke a Redleg win streak in nine games.

When he joined the club, Klipp was supposed to work in relief. To everyone's surprise, including the Reds, he's taken starting roles because the team turned out to have only Bob Purkey, Joey Jay and Jim O'Toole as reliable starters.

Tony Cloninger allowed seven hits and retired 15 Reds in a row between the third and eighth innings Tuesday night. He was removed with two out in the ninth.

Meanwhile, Hank Aaron came through with a single, a double and his 31st homer for Milwaukee. Brother Tom Aaron got his fifth homer.

The Reds had their chances only in the second and ninth innings. With two out and the tying run on second in the ninth, Claude Raymond relieved Cloninger and struck out John Edwards to seal the decision.

Purkey was slated for pitching duty tonight, opposing Milwaukee's Jack Curtis.

50 Candidates Take Exams at Teays Valley

Varsity, Reserve,
Freshmen Schedules
For '62 Announced

Marion Waites, grid coach of the new Teays Valley High School, announced that 50 candidates reported for football physicals Tuesday.

Waites said only nine of the grid hopefuls are seniors. Nearly half of the total are freshmen.

Candidates who missed physicals at the Ashville School must make their own arrangements for exams before Friday, the official opening of practice.

Equipment was issued to the Teays Valley candidates at 9 a. m. today and at 7:30 p. m.

FOLLOWING a Thursday orientation session scheduled at 7:30 p. m., boys who wish will be fitted with mouth protectors.

Waites said this will definitely be a building year for the new school. Of the three school districts from which Teays valley was formed, Ashville and Scioto Schools previously fielded football teams.

Teays Valley will play in the Darby Valley League. Other schools in the league are Triad Local, Madison South, Cedarville, West Jefferson, the Plains, Greenview and Jonathan Alder.

Waites has scheduled three scrimmage sessions with other schools. On Aug. 25 they go to Hamilton Twp. for the first practice tilt. Then they host St. Charles on Aug. 29 and Groveport on September 1.

The schedule for the varsity is:
Sept. 7 Amanda-Clearcreek
Sept. 14 at Walnut Ridge
Sept. 21 at Triad Local
Sept. 28 Madison South
Oct. 5 at Cedarville
Oct. 12 W. Jefferson
Oct. 19 at The Plains
Oct. 26 Greenview
Nov. 2 at Jonathan Alder

Reserve games will be played at 4:30 p. m. The schedule is:
Sept. 10, Hamilton; Sept. 24, Amanda-Clearcreek; Oct. 1, Logan Elm; Oct. 11, at Pleasant View; Oct. 15, at Amanda - Clearcreek; Oct. 22, at West Jefferson; Oct. 29, at Fairfield Union; Nov. 5, Circleville.

Freshmen games will be played at 6 p. m. Games scheduled include: Sept. 20, at Hamilton Twp.; Sept. 27, Logan Elm; Oct. 8, at Pleasant View; Oct. 18, The Plains; Oct. 29, at Circleville.

When Texas Tech was admitted to the Southwest Conference in 1960, it was the first change in the conference lineup since 1924 when Oklahoma A. M. (now Oklahoma State) dropped out.

Tiger Grid Hopefuls Take Physicals; 64 Turn Out

Sixty-four Tiger football candidates took physicals last night in the Circleville High School gymnasium.

Coach Carl Benhase said he was a little disappointed in the turnout. He had expected 75 to 80 candidates to take the pre-practice exams. There were eight seniors, 28 juniors, 16 sophomores and only 12 freshmen reporting.

He announced that grid hopefuls who could not make it to the scheduled physicals yesterday could pick up the cards either at the orientation meeting today or during equipment handouts Thursday.

Physicals must be completed before the first practice, scheduled to start 7:30 a. m. Friday.

The candidates ranged in size from 103-pound freshman Jim Diltz to 261-pound sophomore, Ronnie Reed.

Fred (Scooter) Moore topped the backfield lettermen, weighing in at 188 pounds. Moore gained honorable mention on the All-SCO league team last year at right halfback.

Other returning backfield candidates include Dessel (Duke) Fyffe, 185-pound fullback and a leading scorer on last year's championship team, and Dave Hannahs, 174-pound quarterback. Hannahs is co-captain this year. He was an honorable mention All-SCO league team member last year.

Gerald Dade, the only junior backfield man to be named to the All-SCO first team, did not report for a physical yesterday, although he will be a member of this year's eleven.

Returning linemen include such standouts as Tom Bivens, 161-pound honorable mention All-SCO guard who is the other co-captain for the 1962 season; Ray (The Toe) Taylor, 155-pound guard; Tom Copland, 172-pound defensive linebacker who is expected to be one of the finest offensive guards; John Pharr, 162-pound end working opposite Thomas, was on the honorable mention All-SCO team in 1961 and was the Tigers' leading pass receiver; Larry Adams, 164-pound guard; and Bruce Horn, 143-pound defensive cornerman last year.

Pushing the "Fantastic Four", the label placed on the returning Tiger backfield, for starting berths will be Tim Mogan, 150-pound senior; Dave Bass, Tom Tootle, Gary Betts, Jim McCoskey, a transfer student from North Baltimore, all juniors. Sophomores making a bid for the starting backfield will include Jimmie Wood, outstanding hurdler on the 1962 CHS track team as a freshman, Mick Tomlinson, Don Fausnaugh and Mansil Hurlburt.

Prospective linemen include seniors Mike Wilson and Bob Schmidt; juniors Steve Thomerson, Howard Fletcher, John Hatcher, Bob Purcell, Roger Dresbach, Jim Barr, Joe List and Tom Hickey; sophomores Ronnie Smith, Jack Martin, Rich Samuel and Gene Smith.

Following is a complete list of candidates who reported for the physicals and their weights.

Brewer Is Named Browns Slot End

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — John Brewer, who gave a solid performance against the Detroit Lions last week, is slated to be at the slot end on offense again when the Cleveland Browns meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night.

The Lions and the Dallas Cowboys will meet in the opener of the twin bill, the first in the history of professional football.

Brewer, a Mississippian who switched from defensive end to the offense this season, was the Browns' leading receiver against Detroit with five catches for 68 yards.

The Katmai National Monument in Alaska is twice the size of the state of Delaware.

The Detroit Tigers played 33 games at Tiger Stadium without going into extra innings. Then, on June 24, they played a 22-inning game with New York that consumed seven hours, an all-time major league record.

Appointment Made for FHA Committee

Mostyn Garrett, a Pickaway County farmer, has been named to the Pickaway County Farmers Home Administration Committee, according to Wade E. Jeffers, the agency's county supervisor. The appointment is for three years beginning July 1.

Purpose of the county committee is to review applications for FHA loans. Composed of three members, the Committee is set up on a rotation basis with one new member appointed each year. Garrett succeeds Ernest Bidwell, Route 1, Orient, who has served on the Committee the past three years. Other committee members are Charles Rose, Route 2, Williamsport, and David H. Bolender, Route 4, Circleville.

Garrett owns and operates a 100-acre dairy farm two miles east of Mount Sterling. He is active in agriculture and community affairs and is well known to many Pickaway county farmers and business men. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge at Mount Sterling, a member of the Pickaway County Fair Board, a member of the Grange and a 4-H leader. His family includes his wife Mary, daughter Virginia, and sons Jim and Dave.

The Farmers Home Administration extends credit accompanied by technical farm management assistance to 85 families in Madison, Pickaway and Franklin Counties. These families have used the loans to purchase livestock, machinery and for other annual farm needs. Some have reorganized their farms for more efficiency and to increase their volume of business. Some have built new homes, along with other farm building improvements.

Jeffers, the county supervisor, is in the County Agent's office, 159 1/2 E. Main St., each Tuesday from 10 a. m. to noon.

County to Get $53,490 from State Fund

Pickaway County will receive $53,490.63 in the state's annual distribution of the revenue in the Local Government Fund, Joseph T. Ferguson, state treasurer, announced today.

The total amount of funds distributed to the 88 counties this year will exceed $32 million.

According to state law, the revenue from the taxes upon financial institutions and dealers in intangibles is collected by the Treasurer of State. He in turn, deposits this revenue in the Local Government Fund.

In August of each year, the State Treasurer prepares a list of total collections received from each county. All money collected from this tax within a particular county will be returned to that county through the disbursement of Local Government Fund revenue.

Stock Market Inches Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed upward early this afternoon in fairly active trading. Gains were held to under 1 point for most key issues, although a number of the higher-priced growth stocks tacked on 1 to 5 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.4 at 221.8 with industrials up 1.6, rails up 1.3 and utilities up .7. The morning gain of this average was almost triple Tuesday's advance in the first two hours.

The market's strong finish Tuesday carried through this morning to a limited extent. Prices were higher from the start, but they made little headway as the session continued.

Volume in the first hour was nearly double Tuesday's first hour.

Young Angler Finally Loses Long Battle

INDIAN ROCKS BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If George Wiesner goes through life with an antipathy toward pleasure boatmen, it's understandable.

The 17-year-old Largo boy, fishing from a local pier with heavy tackle one recent night, hooked into a big fish, probably a giant grouper.

The fish refused to tire. George fought him through the night. Other fishermen brought him coffee. Daylight came, and still the fight continued. It went on through the morning.

A few minutes past noon, a pleasure boat came along, the operator oblivious to the fishing duel. Spectators on the pier yelled and waved their arms, but the boatman ignored them. The boat cut young Wiesner's line, and the fish swam away.

He lost his fish after battling it for 13 1/2 hours.

Litterbears At Yellowstone

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—What Yellowstone National Park needs is not a good 5-cent cigar—but a bear-proof garbage can.

The brown bears which abound in Yellowstone Park may amuse the tourists with their antics, but to park rangers they are litterbugs and nuisances.

So far, man hasn't been successful in coming up with a garbage can that man can open to deposit garbage—but bears can't open to spread it around.

Park officials are trying several new types of garbage cans this summer to test the ingenuity of the cagy bruins. So far, the bears have won on all counts.

One of the experimental models is designed like a mail box. But it didn't take the smart bears to figure that one out.

Another model hangs from a T-frame, but Park Superintendent Lemuel A. Garrison says it isn't working too well, either.

"The bears knock it around like a punching bag," he said, "and it makes a big racket."

In NL Flag Chase Shoe Horn Needed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hand over that shoe horn Joe Cronin.

The race over here in the National League is developing into a good thing to avoid if you have sticky heart valves.

You may recall that a few weeks back American League President Cronin was calling his scrambled flag battle a "shoe horn race."

Not so long after that, the Los Angeles Dodgers were making motions toward a National League runway. The San Francisco Giants put a stop to that with a weekend sweep.

Tuesday Jack Sanford won his 10th straight and Willie Mays hit his 36th home run as the Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 9-2.

For the Dodgers, Maury Wills was caught stealing, and Tommy Davis struck out, hit into a force play and two double plays — and Los Angeles dropped a 2-1 decision to Pittsburgh.

As a result, the Giants were within 1½ games of the Dodgers, and the shoe was getting tighter. The flag hopes of the Cincinnati Reds, who are 6½ back in third, suffered a setback when they were beaten 5-4 by the Milwaukee Braves.

The St. Louis Cardinals, whose disgruntled boss August Busch threatened to trade almost every one, including the peanut vendors, dropped a 4-3 battle to Houston in 10 innings, when the winning run scored on an error.

The Philadelphia Phils and the New York Mets struggled for 15 innings before the Phils won 3-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees opened a 6-game bulge by beating Minnesota 5-2, while the second-place Los Angeles Angels were losing twice to Boston, 2-1 and 9-5. The Detroit Tigers beat Baltimore twice, 13-10 and 5-4, Kansas City edged Washington 6-5, and the Chicago White Sox whipped Cleveland 9-0.

Sanford ran his record to 16-6 as he tamed the Cubs on eight hits. Ernie Banks drove in both Cub runs, one with his 30th homer.

Johnny Podres was foiled in a bid for his 100th career victory for the Dodgers, as his mates got at least one hit in every inning except the ninth but couldn't reach the plate.

The only Dodger run off Al McBean (12-8) came on Podres' first major league homer. The Pirates got one in the first inning on doubles by Bob Clemente and Donn Clendenon, and the clincher in the third when Bill Virdon singled and Dick Groat doubled him home.

The Braves snapped a Cincinnati winning streak at nine for the second time this season. Tommie Aaron broke a 3-3 tie with a homer in the sixth inning and Hank Aaron made it 5-3 with his 31st homer in the seventh. Reliever Claude Raymond squelched a Redleg uprising in the ninth.

The Cardinals messed up a double play ball in the 10th when Julian Javier threw into the dirt to Bill White, and Roman Mejias scored from second, just beating White's throw to the plate. Bob Gibson (14-9) went all the way for the loss. Don McMahon (3-3) got the win in relief.

Al Jackson went all 15 innings for the Mets, who ran their latest losing streak to five games. He limited the Phils to four singles through the first 14 innings, but in the 15th Tony Gonzales reached second on a two-base error. Bob Oldis blooped a single to right, Ruben Amaro was walked intentionally and Mel Roach hit a two-run single through the drawn-in infield. Jack Baldschun, third Phil hurler, got the win (7-7).

AT GOP SESSION — Taking part in a Republican Women's Workshop yesterday at the American Legion Post on Route 23 were these committeewomen. They are, from the left: Mrs. Maxine Charlton of Lancaster, 10th District; Mrs. Donna Wagner of Washington C. H., 6th District; and Mrs. Daisy Gillespie of New Holland, Pickaway County committeewoman. Mrs. Charlton was main speaker for the day. She based her talk on "You, the Woman in Your Block."

Appointment Made for FHA Committee

Mostyn Garrett, a Pickaway County farmer, has been named to the Pickaway County Farmers Home Administration Committee, according to Wade E. Jeffers, the agency's county supervisor. The appointment is for three years beginning July 1.

Purpose of the county committee is to review applications for FHA loans. Composed of three members, the Committee is set up on a rotation basis with one new member appointed each year. Garrett succeeds Ernest Bidwell, Route 1, Orient, who has served on the Committee the past three years. Other committee members are Charles Rose, Route 2, Williamsport, and David H. Bolender, Route 4, Circleville.

Garrett owns and operates a 100-acre dairy farm two miles east of Mount Sterling. He is active in agriculture and community affairs and is well known to many Pickaway county farmers and business men. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge at Mount Sterling, a member of the Pickaway County Fair Board, a member of the Grange and a 4-H leader. His family includes his wife Mary, daughter Virginia, and sons Jim and Dave.

The Farmers Home Administration extends credit accompanied by technical farm management assistance to 85 families in Madison, Pickaway and Franklin Counties. These families have used the loans to purchase livestock, machinery and for other annual farm needs. Some have reorganized their farms for more efficiency and to increase their volume of business. Some have built new homes, along with other farm building improvements.

Jeffers, the county supervisor, is in the County Agent's office, 159 1/2 E. Main St., each Tuesday from 10 a. m. to noon.

County to Get $53,490 from State Fund

Pickaway County will receive $53,490.63 in the state's annual distribution of the revenue in the Local Government Fund, Joseph T. Ferguson, state treasurer, announced today.

The total amount of funds distributed to the 88 counties this year will exceed $32 million. According to state law, the revenue from the taxes upon financial institutions and dealers in intangibles is collected by the Treasurer of State. He in turn, deposits this revenue in the Local Government Fund.

In August of each year, the State Treasurer prepares a list of total collections received from each county. All money collected from this tax within a particular county will be returned to that county through the disbursement of Local Government Fund revenue.

Young Angler Finally Loses Long Battle

INDIAN ROCKS BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If George Wiesner goes through life with an antipathy toward pleasure boatmen, it's understandable.

The 17-year-old Largo boy, fishing from a local pier with heavy tackle one recent night, hooked into a big fish, probably a giant grouper.

The fish refused to tire. George fought him through the night. Other fishermen brought him coffee. Daylight came, and still the fight continued. It went on through the morning.

A few minutes past noon, a pleasure boat came along, the operator oblivious to the fishing duel. Spectators on the pier yelled and waved their arms, but the boatman ignored them. The boat cut young Wiesner's line, and the fish swam away.

He lost his fish after battling it for 13 1/2 hours.

Litterbears At Yellowstone

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—What Yellowstone National Park needs is not a good 5-cent cigar—but a bear-proof garbage can.

The brown bears which abound in Yellowstone Park may amuse the tourists with their antics, but to park rangers they are litterbugs and nuisances.

So far, man hasn't been successful in coming up with a garbage can that man can open to deposit garbage—but bears can't open to spread it around.

Park officials are trying several new types of garbage cans this summer to test the ingenuity of the cagy bears. So far, the bears have won on all counts.

One of the experimental models is designed like a mail box. But it didn't take the smart bears to figure that one out.

Another model hangs from a T-frame, but Park Superintendent Lemuel A. Garrison says it isn't working too well, either.

"The bears knock it around like a punching bag," he said, "and it makes a big racket."

ROSS W. HENRY

R. W. Henry Promoted by GMC

Ross W. Henry, of Warren, O., has been appointed product manager, wire and cable sales, of the Packard Electric Division, General Motors Corp., at Warren.

Henry, a former resident of Circleville, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wray Henry, 412 S. Court St. The promotional announcement was made by R. H. Sims, sales manager of the division.

The new position has been set up as a result of the increasing complexity of the Division's business. The product manager will concentrate his efforts in the development of promotional techniques applicable to his respective area.

Henry joined Packard Electric in 1937 as a General Motors Institute student. Prior to this he was assistant manager of the local G. C. Murphy Store.

IN 1941 he was assigned to the sales department. In 1942 he transferred to the cable engineering department and served in various engineering functions in that department until 1946. He then returned to the sales department as a sales engineer and worked in the Warren, Detroit, Mich., and Chicago, Ill., offices until his recent promotion.

Stock Market Inches Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pushed upward early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Gains were held to under 1 point for most key issues, although a number of the higher-priced growth stocks tacked on 1 to 5 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.4 at 221.8 with industrials up 1.6, rails up 1.3 and utilities up .7. The morning gain of this average was almost triple Tuesday's advance in the first two hours.

The market's strong finish Tuesday carried through this morning to a limited extent. Prices were higher from the start, but they made little headway as the session continued.

Volume in the first hour was nearly double Tuesday's first hour.
